Costa Rica Fighting Spreads

Noel Fields Will Stay In Hungary

Father Of Eight Dies In Collapse Of 12-Foot Ditch

TRENTON, N.J., Jan. 12 (AP)—A Philadelphia father of eight children died today in the collapse of a storm sewer excavation while fellow workers pleaded with him to grasp an air hose as mud and water buried him in the 12-foot ditch.

Edward A. Massella, 53, of Philadelphia, drowned as water from a broken water main filled the excavation in nearby Yardville.

Police Capt. Phillip Booz said five other workmen scrambled to safety as the trench began to cave in, and threw in air hose to the struggling victim who either could not grasp the hose or was too panic stricken to do so.

Letter Confirms Asylum Request

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The State Department said today it has received confirmation from Noel Field that he and his wife Herta have requested asylum in Communist Hungary.

Press Officer Henry Suydam said U. S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal at Budapest had received a hand written letter "purporting to be from Noel Field."

In the letter, Suydam said, Field confirmed Hungarian press-radio reports that he and his wife had been granted asylum at their request. The Fields were released last Nov. 17 after five years in a Hungarian jail on charges of being American spies.

Suydam said that U. S. officials are still in the dark as to the Fields' whereabouts.

Asked why the department used the "purporting" language, Suydam said he was "just being supercautious."

Called Communist Agent

Field, now 50, has been accused in the United States as a Communist agent and in Europe as an American spy.

He worked for the State Department on West European affairs from 1926 to 1936 and then went to work for the League of Nations in Geneva.

In 1949, after having disappeared from public view, he was named in testimony during the Alger Hiss trial as having been linked to Communist cells in Washington in the 1930s.

Suydam said tonight that the latest letter from the Fields was dated Jan. 7. He said it was in response to one from Ravndal of last Dec. 31 asking when and where an interview might be arranged.

Still Hospitalized

"In response Mr. Field stated his wife and he were still hospitalized," Suydam said.

"Nevertheless he hoped that in two or three weeks he and his wife would be back at the original address where Mr. Ravndal had seen them on Nov. 18 and he hoped that at that time and place it would be possible to arrange for an interview."

Noel's brother Hermann, 44, was freed by Communist Poland last October after five years imprisonment. Like Noel and Herta, Herman was accused of being an American spy. Also, as in their case, these charges were dropped upon his release.

President Keeps His Own Counsel On Second Term

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower took the position today that it will be up to him personally to decide whether it is his duty to run again in 1956.

He also joined other Republicans in defending Vice President Nixon, his 1952 running mate, from Democratic criticisms. He suggested that words taken out of context from the Nixon's 1954 campaign speeches could have prompted the attacks.

He replied with a prompt single word, bosh, when asked whether, in advocating a late 1956 GOP convention and a shorter campaign in recent talks with party chairman Leonard W. Hall, he was indicating he will be a candidate again next year.

Up To Individual Concerned

The chief executive told a news conference he hopes he never would be so self-centered as to fail to respond to a call to duty. But he stressed that such things must be decided by the individual concerned and he certainly would want to know in critical circumstances what his duty was.

Some pro-Eisenhower Republicans have been saying that the President, even though he may be reluctant to run again, would be prevailed upon to do so through a sense of duty to the country or, as some put it more narrowly, to his party.

But reporters, sounding out the President on this reasoning, as usual came up with no real information.

Refers To Talk With Dewey

As for former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's conversation with him at the White House stag dinner last Monday night, he said Dewey merely explained to him the joys of private life. Dewey is now practicing law in New York. He had been reported as urging the President to run again, a step which several other dinner guests said later they approved.

The President confirmed reports of last weekend that he favored a late party convention next year and a shorter campaign. The Republicans are talking of a September convention while the Democrats have determined on Aug. 27 for theirs, although historically they are held much earlier.

OAS Investigators Reach Canal Zone

PANAMA, Jan. 12 (AP)—A five-nation commission from the Organization of American States arrived at Albrook Air Force Base in the Canal Zone tonight en route to Costa Rica to investigate a dispute between Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

A spokesman said the commission had been unable to fly direct to San Jose, Costa Rica, but that arrangements had been made for the group to fly on there early tomorrow.

The 21-nation OAS ordered the commission to make an immediate investigation after Costa Rica blamed neighboring Nicaragua for fighting in Costa Rica. The commission is made up of representatives of the United States, Brazil, Mexico, Ecuador and Paraguay.

May Film Conferences

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — Press Secretary James G. Hagerty said today the White House is considering filming President Eisenhower's news conferences for release later to newsreels and television stations.

Britain Lashed By Winter Storm

LONDON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Blizzards and freezing gales lashed Britain today spreading deep snow over northern England and Scotland and endangering coastal ships.

Two trains were stranded in heavy snow in Scotland and dozens of villages were isolated.

Gales swept down the North Sea and Irish Channel. The 1,575-ton Norwegian freighter Gatt radioed it was sinking off the Dutch coast. Two small Swedish vessels called for immediate aid. One was off the Dutch coast and one off eastern England.

Fifty passengers were marooned on a train at Georgemas in northeast Scotland. A second train, carrying 12 passengers, was stranded at a small station near Georgemas.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 11,000 men in March, the same number previously announced for February.

HORMEL ACQUITTED — George Hormel II smiles in Superior Court at Los Angeles moments after a jury acquitted him yesterday on charges of marijuana possession. The meat packing heir had contended he was framed and tricked into a confession by narcotics officers. (AP Wirephoto)

Hormel Freed Of Dope Charge; Verdict Cheered

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Handsome George (Geordie) Hormel II, 26, piano-playing scion of the millionaire meat-packing family, was acquitted by a jury today of a marijuana-possession charge.

A packed courtroom cheered the verdict. Hormel's mother, Mrs. J. C. Hormel, Austin, Minn., threw herself sobbing into her son's arms.

Hormel, who said he had been framed and tricked into a confession by narcotics officers, was arrested last Sept. 19. Officers said they found 13 marijuana cigarettes in his car.

"There are facts which have been suppressed up until now," Hormel told reporters with a grin, "and when they are brought to light there will be no doubt as to the validity of my previous assertions."

"Confessed" Under Pressure

He did not enlarge upon this, but one of his attorneys, Samuel Picone, said, "If the grand jury is interested in this matter, we will be glad to cooperate."

Hormel testified during the trial that he had never smoked or purchased marijuana, but that under police pressure he agreed to say that he had. He said he made the statement to Detective John O'Grady to avoid publicity because his mother was ill. His father had died shortly before.

Hormel said he has no immediate plans to reorganize the night club trio he headed before his arrest. Two members of the trio testified against him.

Doing Hitch In Coast Guard

Hormel said he has four months to serve of a four-year hitch in the Coast Guard and doesn't intend to play professionally during that time.

Jury Foreman D. L. Morgan said the jurors "doubted the credibility of the state's star witness," Robert (Iggy) Shevak, string bass player in the trio. "We doubted the officers to a certain extent," Morgan added. It took the panel 4½ hours to reach the verdict.

Shevak, who also faces dope charges, testified that Hormel had given him $20 to buy marijuana from a parking lot attendant at the night club where the trio played. Hormel said he had no idea how the marijuana got in his car.

Envoy Visits With Ike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, only top Democrat in the State Department, visited with President Eisenhower at the White House today.

Manhunt On For Escaped Convict, Slayer Of Three

ORANGE, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—Lawmen fanned out today in a hunt for escaped killer Julius Bohannon, who murdered two Oklahoma lawmen and a prison guard during a spree of violence in the 30's.

The search in southeast Texas and southwest Louisiana began after a man said he'd been kidnaped by two armed men, one of whom he identified as Bohannon. Police think the other might be the fugitive's son.

Bohannon, 49, fled the Oklahoma State Penitentiary Saturday night—the third escape for the leader of a bloody break in 1936. A trusty, Bohannon slipped off from the prison movie where he was the projectionist.

Police here quoted an Oklahoma pickup order as listing him as "dangerous" and saying Bohannon had boasted he would not be taken alive.

An abandoned, burned car was found today 10 miles north of here. It belonged to Burnice Roberts, 42, a Negro of Baytown, Tex.

Roberts told police at nearby Beaumont two men kidnaped him at Baytown Monday morning, robbed him of $90 and a pocket watch and forced him into his car trunk. Roberts said the pair, armed with pistols, drove around in East Texas, visiting several taverns. He said both fell asleep near Silsbee Monday night.

Roberts said he then escaped from the car and hitchhiked from Silsbee to Beaumont.

Roberts identified one of the pair from a photograph as Julius Bohannon. His description of the other, Beaumont police said, fitted Billy Bohannon, about 20, son of the escaped convict.

Right Of Aides To Disagree Upheld By Ike

Eisenhower Says He Formed No Judgment In Case Of Ladejinsky

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower upheld today the right of officials to reach conflicting decisions in the Wolf Ladejinsky case—a case in which he said he himself has formed no judgment.

Eisenhower also told a news conference that without inquiring into all the circumstances or studying the other side of the question, he once remarked to Secretary of Agriculture Benson that a summary of the case would scare him—the President.

Yet he said he would uphold the right of Harold E. Stassen, foreign operations administrator, to hire Ladejinsky after Benson turned him down as a security risk. Stassen, he said, will be held responsible if his judgment turns out to be wrong.

"Rescued" By Stassen

Ladejinsky is a 55-year-old Russian who became a naturalized American. He was cleared for security by the State Department and served as U. S. agricultural attache in Tokyo. When agricultural attaches were shifted to the Department of Agriculture, Benson ousted Ladejinsky on security and technical grounds.

In the midst of a lively row over the case that reached into Congress, Stassen took on Ladejinsky for a land reform assignment in Viet Nam.

The chief executive said this was a case in which honest men came up with different answers.

1956 Question Unanswered

In response to half an hour of questioning, the President also said that:

1. It was bosh—his eyes snapped but he joined in the laughter—to interpret his approval for a belated Republican National Convention next year as giving the impression he will be a candidate for another term. The GOP is talking of a September convention rather than the usual June or July session. Eisenhower said he had told Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall he thinks it is foolish to drag out campaigns.

2. He admires Vice President Nixon, whose 1954 campaign tactics are under Democratic attack, and said he believes in his loyalty and patriotism. He said he realized that words used in the heat of a campaign, particularly if taken out of context, possibly can be made the target of legitimate criticism.

But he said Nixon had assured him time and again that the vice president never condemned the entire Democratic party, although he had talked about individual loyalty cases and questioned the judgment of Democrats in handling them.

France And Italy Agree On Arms

ROME, Jan. 12 (AP)—Two World War II enemies—France and Italy—agreed today on a need for wider controls of armaments to insure world peace.

A joint statement winding up two days of swiftly paced conferences between France's Pierre Mendes-France and Italian government leaders indicated the French Premier had been successful in winning a friendly Italian reception for his proposed European arms pool.

Agreement also was reached on economic matters, including trade, industrial cooperation and immigration.

The statement drafted by Mendes-France and Italian Premier Mario Scelba said the leaders of the two countries believe the Paris accords on rearming West Germany are a step toward a united Europe and that such accords "contain decisions for the automatic control of armament to insure peace in the world."

Freed Americans Suffer Enlargement Of Liver

BERLIN, Jan. 12 (AP) — U. S. Army doctors said today two Americans who were released after years of Soviet imprisonment last weekend are suffering from enlargement of the liver, apparently caused by malnutrition.

The two Americans, John H. Noble, 31, Detroit, and Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30, Norristown, Pa., underwent physical examinations at the U. S. Army hospital here.

15 Perish As Airliner, Private Plane Collide

BURLINGTON, Ky., Jan. 12 (AP)—Fifteen persons died today on bleak snow-covered northern Kentucky hillsides as a TWA Martin Skyliner and a privately owned DC3 collided in the air and crashed a half mile apart.

There were no survivors to explain the accident.

The TWA plane had left the Greater Cincinnati Airport only minutes before, bound for Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio. It carried 10 persons and a crew of three.

The DC3, with two aboard, was being flown from Battle Creek, Mich., and was to have picked up Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Van Lennep in Lexington, Ky., wealthy Detroit race horse owners. Mrs. Van Lennep is the former Frances Dodge.

No Word DC3 In Area

Just what happened no one seemed to know.

Tower control officials said they had no word that the DC3 was in the area.

C. Woodrow McKay, chief controller at the tower, said he saw the transport plane head southwest for about two minutes, make a right turn and then disappear. Seconds later he saw a flash and then smoke.

Charles Rising, Cincinnati supervising agent for the CAA, said he knew of no reason for the DC3 to be flying in the area. Another CAA official, who declined use of his name, said marks on the wreckage made it appear that the planes were approaching each other as at the apex of a triangle and that it was their wings which apparently hit first.

Wreckage Strewn 150 Yards

The TWA plane crashed into the side of a gully approximately a half mile from the nearest road. It bounced back and wreckage was strewn for 150 yards.

The DC3 appeared to have hit nose first about a half mile away.

There were few actual eye witnesses.

Arthur Gibson, 12, said he saw "a big explosion and parts of airplanes began falling through the air."

Mrs. Betty Dallwick, sister of the man on whose farm the TWA plane fell, said she heard the terrific blast "which shook the whole house." And then saw the plane smash into the side of a ravine.

Navy Officials' Plane Makes Crash Landing

BEEVILLE, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—The undersecretary of the Navy and several high Naval officers escaped injury in a crash landing at Chase Field near here today.

The nosewheel of their Navy transport plane collapsed on landing.

Those aboard included Undersecretary Thomas Gates Jr., retired Vice Adm. Calvin Durgin and Rear Adm. C. D. Glover, chief of the Naval Advanced Air Training Command at Corpus Christi.

The plane carried eight persons and a crew of six. The group was on an inspection tour. No one was hurt.

GOP To Go Along

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee today agreed to go along with a quick Senate vote Friday on a resolution denouncing and calling for continued investigation of communism.

Robert Mitchum Leaves Film Cast After "Horseplay"

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Jan. 12 (AP)—Humphrey Bogart is being invited to take the lead opposite his wife, Lauren Bacall, in a movie called "Blood Alley" which was interrupted when actor Robert Mitchum playfully pushed a film company official off a gangplank into the bay.

"We can get along without this pirate," Mitchum later quoted himself as remarking as he sent George Coleman, Warner Bros. transportation manager, splashing into the bay.

Director William A. Wellman decided it was Mitchum the picture could get along without. He said today he didn't fire him, though; Mitchum had just "agreed to withdraw from the picture."

Aide Who Criticized Summerfield Fired

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — A Republican staff aide who wrote a memorandum to Senate Appropriations subcommittee members that Postmaster General Summerfield has practiced "gross deception" in some claimed economies got notice today that he is being fired.

But an aide to Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz), the Appropriations Committee's new chairman, told reporters the dismissal of Maurice Joyce had nothing to do with the fact that Joyce wrote the memorandum or that the tenor of the document had been allowed to "leak out."

The aide said Joyce was one of several Republican appointees given notices of dismissal by Hayden to become effective Feb. 15. Joyce formerly worked for the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Attempts to reach him for comment were unavailing.

Auto, Film, Oil Industries Face Monopoly Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The automobile, movie, oil and rubber industries were spotlighted today as potential targets of House investigators looking for evidence of monopoly.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), incoming chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, named them among likely subjects of inquiry by a reconstituted Judiciary subcommittee on monopoly practices and concentration of industrial power. However it was not certain at this stage that any of the industries named would actually be the subject of public hearings.

Celler disclosed in an interview that plans already are well advanced for resuming the extensive monopoly investigations started in 1949. They centered chiefly on the aluminum, steel and newsprint industries during the 81st and 82nd Congresses.

In reconstituting the Monopoly subcommittee, which was allowed to lapse during the 83rd Congress, Celler said he had no plans to retrace the investigative trail already covered.

"There are plenty of other subjects," Celler said.

Hope TV Show To Cost Auto Firm $100,000

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Bob Hope said today that $100,000 is involved in a deal for just one hour of television but denied reports that he will get all the money personally.

Hope is to be master of ceremonies Jan. 17 in New York for the NBC Motorama telecast, sponsored by an automobile manufacturer.

"The price is $100,000 but it is not clear to Bob Hope personally," said a spokesman for the comic. "It will be a package deal, with writers and other people on the show being paid out of it."

Demos Renew Nixon Attack With "Chamber Of Smears"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — Democrats tonight resumed their attack on Vice President Nixon for his 1954 campaign tactics even as President Eisenhower was defending his 1952 running mate by saying Nixon had never condemned the Democratic party as a whole.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler invited GOP Chairman Leonard Hall to inspect what Butler called a "chamber of smears" showing how Nixon and other Republican speakers "maligned and slandered the Democratic party and its candidates during the 1954 campaign."

Butler made public a letter to Hall saying the exhibit, together with "smear recordings put out by the Republican Campaign Committee," would be available for his inspection at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Democratic headquarters, or at some later time if that was not convenient.

Hall replied in a statement released to the press that he will be glad to exchange letters or visit with Butler whenever he is engaged in "more constructive" matters than an "untruthful campaign of personal abuse and vilification" against the vice president.

Earlier in the day the President, in response to news conference questions, said he admires Nixon, was loathe to believe he was guilty of any indiscretion, and suggested his critics probably were taking words out of context in hitting at Nixon.

He said he had assurances from Nixon that he had not attacked the Democratic party as a party of treason nor had he made any sweeping condemnation of the party, but was talking in the campaign about certain individual cases and the way they were handled administrativly.

Planes Attack Capital, Three Other Towns

President Charges Invaders Backed By Venezuelan Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The United States announced tonight it will "make aircraft immediately available to carry out pacific observation flights" over Costa Rica, as requested by the Organization of American States.

The OAS had asked the United States and other Western Hemisphere governments earlier tonight to send observation planes over the Central American country, in hopes this would stop air raids Costa Rica has reported.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 12 (AP)—Costa Rica's spreading warfare crackled at half a dozen points over the country today. Mystery planes attacked four towns, including this capital where President Jose Figueres declared: "We don't scare with the splatterings of bullets."

Addressing the people in a nationwide broadcast, Figueres charged Gen. Anastasio Somoza, Nicaragua's strongman President, had "decided to unleash the men he had in his estates and is now throwing them into Costa Rica through various points."

Later, in a telephone interview with the Bogota (Colombia) newspaper El Espectador, Figueres declared the attack was launched by "unhappy mercenaries from Nicaragua, backed by Venezuelan money." He added "We are in complete control of the situation."

The U. S. Embassy announced six engineers from the United States who have been working on the Inter-American Highway north of Liberia, one of the towns strafed, have been pulled back to safety. Their families were evacuated with them from the trouble zone.

Plane Reported Shot Down

A rebel band was reported authoritatively to be moving down the Inter-American Highway from La Cruz, only 10 miles from Nicaragua.

A lone fighter, described by the Civil Guard as "Venezuelan plane which came from Nicaragua," carried the fight to this capital city with blasts of .50 caliber machine gun bullets not far from Figueres' residence. Fleeing to the north, the plane was later reported shot down. Observers here said the plane was an old P47 type of World War II vintage. No casualties were reported here, but there was some damage to buildings.

After the attack the President suspended civil rights in order to cope with the emergency. Airlines canceled flights out of San Jose, and planes bound for the capital were diverted elsewhere.

Villa Quesada Retaken

A government communique said planes also raided Liberia, in Northwestern Costa Rica, and Cartago and Turrialba in the central part of the country south of

Costa Rican Chief Challenged To Duel By Nicaragua Boss

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 12 (AP)—Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza tonight challenged Costa Rican President Jose Figueres to a duel at the border of the two quarreling Central American nations.

Somoza, Nicaragua's strong man who has been at odds with Figueres for nearly seven years, told a news conference:

"There is no need for bloodshed just because Figueres has such a personal hate for me. I will fight a duel at the frontier with Figueres. Why won't he be man enough to do that?"

McCarthy Says Balky Witness Promoted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he has learned the Army recently promoted, to corporal, a soldier-doctor who invoked the Fifth Amendment on questions concerning communism. He likened this to the storm center case of former Maj. Irving Peress.

McCarthy announced he has asked the Army for a report on this case, in which he said Pfc Marvin S. Belsky of the medical staff at the Army's Murphy General Hospital in Waltham, Mass., was made a corporal "within the last six weeks." There was no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 11,000 men in March, the same number previously announced for February.

Manhunt On For Escaped Convict, Slayer Of Three

ORANGE, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—Lawmen fanned out today in a hunt for escaped killer Julius Bohannon, who murdered two Oklahoma lawmen and a prison guard during a spree of violence in the 30's.

The search in southeast Texas and southwest Louisiana began after a man said he'd been kidnaped by two armed men, one of whom he identified as Bohannon. Police think the other might be the fugitive's son.

Bohannon, 49, fled the Oklahoma State Penitentiary Saturday night—the third escape for the leader of a bloody break in 1936. A trusty, Bohannon slipped off from the prison movie where he was the projectionist.

Police here quoted an Oklahoma pickup order as listing him as "dangerous" and saying Bohannon had boasted he would not be taken alive.

An abandoned, burned car was found today 10 miles north of here. It belonged to Burnice Roberts, 42, a Negro of Baytown, Tex.

Roberts told police at nearby Beaumont two men kidnaped him at Baytown Monday morning, robbed him of $90 and a pocket watch and forced him into his car trunk. Roberts said the pair, armed with pistols, drove around in East Texas, visiting several taverns. He said both fell asleep near Silsbee Monday night.

Roberts said he then escaped from the car and hitchhiked from Silsbee to Beaumont.

Roberts identified one of the pair from a photograph as Julius Bohannon. His description of the other, Beaumont police said, fitted Billy Bohannon, about 20, son of the escaped convict.

Right Of Aides To Disagree Upheld By Ike

Eisenhower Says He Formed No Judgment In Case Of Ladejinsky

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower upheld today the right of officials to reach conflicting decisions in the Wolf Ladejinsky case—a case in which he said he himself has formed no judgment.

Eisenhower also told a news conference that without inquiring into all the circumstances or studying the other side of the question, he once remarked to Secretary of Agriculture Benson that a summary of the case would scare him—the President.

Yet he said he would uphold the right of Harold E. Stassen, foreign operations administrator, to hire Ladejinsky after Benson turned him down as a security risk. Stassen, he said, will be held responsible if his judgment turns out to be wrong.

"Rescued" By Stassen

Ladejinsky is a 55-year-old Russian who became a naturalized American. He was cleared for security by the State Department and served as U. S. agricultural attache in Tokyo. When agricultural attaches were shifted to the Department of Agriculture, Benson ousted Ladejinsky on security and technical grounds.

In the midst of a lively row over the case that reached into Congress, Stassen took on Ladejinsky for a land reform assignment in Viet Nam.

The chief executive said this was a case in which honest men came up with different answers.

1956 Question Unanswered

In response to half an hour of questioning, the President also said that:

1. It was bosh—his eyes snapped but he joined in the laughter—to interpret his approval for a belated Republican National Convention next year as giving the impression he will be a candidate for another term. The GOP is talking of a September convention rather than the usual June or July session. Eisenhower said he had told Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall he thinks it is foolish to drag out campaigns.

2. He admires Vice President Nixon, whose 1954 campaign tactics are under Democratic attack, and said he believes in his loyalty and patriotism. He said he realized that words used in the heat of a campaign, particularly if taken out of context, possibly can be made the target of legitimate criticism.

But he said Nixon had assured him time and again that the vice president never condemned the entire Democratic party, although he had talked about individual loyalty cases and questioned the judgment of Democrats in handling them.

France And Italy Agree On Arms

ROME, Jan. 12 (AP)—Two World War II enemies—France and Italy—agreed today on a need for wider controls of armaments to insure world peace.

A joint statement winding up two days of swiftly paced conferences between France's Pierre Mendes-France and Italian government leaders indicated the French Premier had been successful in winning a friendly Italian reception for his proposed European arms pool.

Agreement also was reached on economic matters, including trade, industrial cooperation and immigration.

The statement drafted by Mendes-France and Italian Premier Mario Scelba said the leaders of the two countries believe the Paris accords on rearming West Germany are a step toward a united Europe and that such accords "contain decisions for the automatic control of armament to insure peace in the world."

Freed Americans Suffer Enlargement Of Liver

BERLIN, Jan. 12 (AP) — U. S. Army doctors said today two Americans who were released after years of Soviet imprisonment last weekend are suffering from enlargement of the liver, apparently caused by malnutrition.

The two Americans, John H. Noble, 31, Detroit, and Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30, Norristown, Pa., underwent physical examinations at the U. S. Army hospital here.

15 Perish As Airliner, Private Plane Collide

BURLINGTON, Ky., Jan. 12 (AP)—Fifteen persons died today on bleak snow-covered northern Kentucky hillsides as a TWA Martin Skyliner and a privately owned DC3 collided in the air and crashed a half mile apart.

There were no survivors to explain the accident.

The TWA plane had left the Greater Cincinnati Airport only minutes before, bound for Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio. It carried 10 persons and a crew of three.

The DC3, with two aboard, was being flown from Battle Creek, Mich., and was to have picked up Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Van Lennep in Lexington, Ky., wealthy Detroit race horse owners. Mrs. Van Lennep is the former Frances Dodge.

No Word DC3 In Area

Just what happened no one seemed to know.

Tower control officials said they had no word that the DC3 was in the area.

C. Woodrow McKay, chief controller at the tower, said he saw the transport plane head southwest for about two minutes, make a right turn and then disappear. Seconds later he saw a flash and then smoke.

Charles Rising, Cincinnati supervising agent for the CAA, said he knew of no reason for the DC3 to be flying in the area. Another CAA official, who declined use of his name, said marks on the wreckage made it appear that the planes were approaching each other as at the apex of a triangle and that it was their wings which apparently hit first.

Wreckage Strewn 150 Yards

The TWA plane crashed into the side of a gully approximately a half mile from the nearest road. It bounced back and wreckage was strewn for 150 yards.

The DC3 appeared to have hit nose first about a half mile away.

There were few actual eye witnesses.

Arthur Gibson, 12, said he saw "a big explosion and parts of airplanes began falling through the air."

Mrs. Betty Dallwick, sister of the man on whose farm the TWA plane fell, said she heard the terrific blast "which shook the whole house." And then saw the plane smash into the side of a ravine.

Navy Officials' Plane Makes Crash Landing

BEEVILLE, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—The undersecretary of the Navy and several high Naval officers escaped injury in a crash landing at Chase Field near here today.

The nosewheel of their Navy transport plane collapsed on landing.

Those aboard included Undersecretary Thomas Gates Jr., retired Vice Adm. Calvin Durgin and Rear Adm. C. D. Glover, chief of the Naval Advanced Air Training Command at Corpus Christi.

The plane carried eight persons and a crew of six. The group was on an inspection tour. No one was hurt.

GOP To Go Along

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee today agreed to go along with a quick Senate vote Friday on a resolution denouncing and calling for continued investigation of communism.

Robert Mitchum Leaves Film Cast After "Horseplay"

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Jan. 12 (AP)—Humphrey Bogart is being invited to take the lead opposite his wife, Lauren Bacall, in a movie called "Blood Alley" which was interrupted when actor Robert Mitchum playfully pushed a film company official off a gangplank into the bay.

"We can get along without this pirate," Mitchum later quoted himself as remarking as he sent George Coleman, Warner Bros. transportation manager, splashing into the bay.

Director William A. Wellman decided it was Mitchum the picture could get along without. He said today he didn't fire him, though; Mitchum had just "agreed to withdraw from the picture."

Aide Who Criticized Summerfield Fired

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — A Republican staff aide who wrote a memorandum to Senate Appropriations subcommittee members that Postmaster General Summerfield has practiced "gross deception" in some claimed economies got notice today that he is being fired.

But an aide to Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz), the Appropriations Committee's new chairman, told reporters the dismissal of Maurice Joyce had nothing to do with the fact that Joyce wrote the memorandum or that the tenor of the document had been allowed to "leak out."

The aide said Joyce was one of several Republican appointees given notices of dismissal by Hayden to become effective Feb. 15. Joyce formerly worked for the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Attempts to reach him for comment were unavailing.

Auto, Film, Oil Industries Face Monopoly Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The automobile, movie, oil and rubber industries were spotlighted today as potential targets of House investigators looking for evidence of monopoly.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), incoming chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, named them among likely subjects of inquiry by a reconstituted Judiciary subcommittee on monopoly practices and concentration of industrial power. However it was not certain at this stage that any of the industries named would actually be the subject of public hearings.

Celler disclosed in an interview that plans already are well advanced for resuming the extensive monopoly investigations started in 1949. They centered chiefly on the aluminum, steel and newsprint industries during the 81st and 82nd Congresses.

In reconstituting the Monopoly subcommittee, which was allowed to lapse during the 83rd Congress, Celler said he had no plans to retrace the investigative trail already covered.

"There are plenty of other subjects," Celler said.

Hope TV Show To Cost Auto Firm $100,000

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Bob Hope said today that $100,000 is involved in a deal for just one hour of television but denied reports that he will get all the money personally.

Hope is to be master of ceremonies Jan. 17 in New York for the NBC Motorama telecast, sponsored by an automobile manufacturer.

"The price is $100,000 but it is not clear to Bob Hope personally," said a spokesman for the comic. "It will be a package deal, with writers and other people on the show being paid out of it."

Demos Renew Nixon Attack With "Chamber Of Smears"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) — Democrats tonight resumed their attack on Vice President Nixon for his 1954 campaign tactics even as President Eisenhower was defending his 1952 running mate by saying Nixon had never condemned the Democratic party as a whole.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler invited GOP Chairman Leonard Hall to inspect what Butler called a "chamber of smears" showing how Nixon and other Republican speakers "maligned and slandered the Democratic party and its candidates during the 1954 campaign."

Butler made public a letter to Hall saying the exhibit, together with "smear recordings put out by the Republican Campaign Committee," would be available for his inspection at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Democratic headquarters, or at some later time if that was not convenient.

Hall replied in a statement released to the press that he will be glad to exchange letters or visit with Butler whenever he is engaged in "more constructive" matters than an "untruthful campaign of personal abuse and vilification" against the vice president.

Earlier in the day the President, in response to news conference questions, said he admires Nixon, was loathe to believe he was guilty of any indiscretion, and suggested his critics probably were taking words out of context in hitting at Nixon.

He said he had assurances from Nixon that he had not attacked the Democratic party as a party of treason nor had he made any sweeping condemnation of the party, but was talking in the campaign about certain individual cases and the way they were handled administrativly.

Planes Attack Capital, Three Other Towns

President Charges Invaders Backed By Venezuelan Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The United States announced tonight it will "make aircraft immediately available to carry out pacific observation flights" over Costa Rica, as requested by the Organization of American States.

The OAS had asked the United States and other Western Hemisphere governments earlier tonight to send observation planes over the Central American country, in hopes this would stop air raids Costa Rica has reported.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 12 (AP)—Costa Rica's spreading warfare crackled at half a dozen points over the country today. Mystery planes attacked four towns, including this capital where President Jose Figueres declared: "We don't scare with the splatterings of bullets."

Addressing the people in a nationwide broadcast, Figueres charged Gen. Anastasio Somoza, Nicaragua's strongman President, had "decided to unleash the men he had in his estates and is now throwing them into Costa Rica through various points."

Later, in a telephone interview with the Bogota (Colombia) newspaper El Espectador, Figueres declared the attack was launched by "unhappy mercenaries from Nicaragua, backed by Venezuelan money." He added "We are in complete control of the situation."

The U. S. Embassy announced six engineers from the United States who have been working on the Inter-American Highway north of Liberia, one of the towns strafed, have been pulled back to safety. Their families were evacuated with them from the trouble zone.

Plane Reported Shot Down

A rebel band was reported authoritatively to be moving down the Inter-American Highway from La Cruz, only 10 miles from Nicaragua.

A lone fighter, described by the Civil Guard as "Venezuelan plane which came from Nicaragua," carried the fight to this capital city with blasts of .50 caliber machine gun bullets not far from Figueres' residence. Fleeing to the north, the plane was later reported shot down. Observers here said the plane was an old P47 type of World War II vintage. No casualties were reported here, but there was some damage to buildings.

After the attack the President suspended civil rights in order to cope with the emergency. Airlines canceled flights out of San Jose, and planes bound for the capital were diverted elsewhere.

Villa Quesada Retaken

A government communique said planes also raided Liberia, in Northwestern Costa Rica, and Cartago and Turrialba in the central part of the country south of

Costa Rican Chief Challenged To Duel By Nicaragua Boss

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 12 (AP)—Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza tonight challenged Costa Rican President Jose Figueres to a duel at the border of the two quarreling Central American nations.

Somoza, Nicaragua's strong man who has been at odds with Figueres for nearly seven years, told a news conference:

"There is no need for bloodshed just because Figueres has such a personal hate for me. I will fight a duel at the frontier with Figueres. Why won't he be man enough to do that?"

McCarthy Says Balky Witness Promoted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said tonight he has learned the Army recently promoted, to corporal, a soldier-doctor who invoked the Fifth Amendment on questions concerning communism. He likened this to the storm center case of former Maj. Irving Peress.

McCarthy announced he has asked the Army for a report on this case, in which he said Pfc Marvin S. Belsky of the medical staff at the Army's Murphy General Hospital in Waltham, Mass., was made a corporal "within the last six weeks." There was no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

Signs Mount Peiping Mission Not In Vain

Hammarskjold Aide Calls For Patience

HONOLULU, Jan. 12 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold flew into Honolulu today on his homeward trip from Peiping as signs mounted that his mission to free prisoners held in Communist China was not in vain.

While the United Nations secretary general remained silent, a personal aide, Per Lind, told reporters in Tokyo that the families of 11 U. S. fliers jailed as "spies" must "have a little more patience."

And in London, the British Foreign Office endorsed a U.N. spokesman's statement that Hammarskjold had not failed in his talks with Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

In response to reporters questions in Honolulu, Hammarskjold said that this was "not the time or place" to comment on his mission for a "fairly obvious" reason.

That reason is that he will make no statement until his report to the United Nations General Assembly, which sent him to Peiping, possibly later this week. Hammarskjold told reporters, however, he had not yet set any definite time for making the report.

The big Constellation carrying Hammarskjold's party will leave Honolulu at 6 p.m. (11 p.m. EST) bound for Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco. Major Elmer E. Dunn, Portland, Me., pilot, said Hammarskjold may not even get off the plane at Travis during the short stop there.

Hammarskjold declined all comment to reporters on his one-hour stopover in Tokyo, just as he did when he left Hong Kong Tuesday.

Lind said in Tokyo any statement made now about the 11 fliers and other U.N. prisoners held by the Communists in China "might not be in their (the prisoner's) best interests."

Hammarskjold is due in New York tomorrow.

New Draft Dodge Plan Goes Awry

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 12 (AP)—The FBI today announced the arrest of a Red Bank youth alleged to have persuaded a one-legged friend to substitute for him in a draft board physical examination in order to evade Selective Service.

Harvey G. Foster, special agent in charge, identified the youth as Anthony Steven Profetto, 20, of Red Bank. Profetto was arrested by FBI agents.

Foster said Profetto is alleged to have asked a friend who wears an artificial leg to appear at local Draft Board No. 18, Newark, on May 11, 1953, for physical examination scheduled for Profetto, who subsequently was classified as 4-F.

Probe Of 'Waste' In SRC Proposed

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP) — An eastern shore legislator said tonight he was considering steps toward an overall investigation of "haste and waste in the State Roads Commission."

Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico) said he planned to seek a probe which would "answer some of the questions being raised by citizens about practices and procedures" in the commission's administration of Maryland's 12-year, 568-million dollar highway program.

The Wicomico County Democrat said some of these questions had been asked by H. C. Byrd, his party's unsuccessful candidate against Gov. McKeldin in November, but had not been satisfactorily answered.

Byrd suggested there had been irregularities or inefficiencies in the acquisition of some property for the mammoth program.

Cannon said his proposal of an investigation also stemmed from the results of a public survey on the east-west highway project to carry U. S. Route 50 through Salisbury, his hometown.

He said about 851 residents were polled on the proposed location of the highway and 825 disapproved of the location selected by commission officials.

Aged Woman Found Starving, Brother Dead

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12 (AP)—An aged woman—weighing less than 50 pounds—was found starving and her younger brother dead today in a littered two-room apartment, police said. Officers turned up about $250 in cash and 35 uncashed relief checks totaling several hundred dollars.

Police said Miss Alice Kelly, 84, was seated in a rocking chair and that the body of her brother, John, 79, was upright on a sofa. Both were emaciated, police said.

Physicians at St. Francis Hospital reported Miss Kelly suffering from malnutrition and shock.

A doctor who pronounced the brother dead said he may have died a week ago. Cause of death was not given immediately.

Demo Committee Says President At Odds With Self

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today that since President Eisenhower appeared on the political scene "he has presented so many different faces that no one positive image has emerged."

This was the committee's appraisal of the President's leadership at mid-term as contained in the February issue of the party's official publication, the "Democratic Digest."

It was the second time since Eisenhower's State of the Union message that the committee has challenged the chief executive, although today's assertions went to press before the President read his message to Congress last Thursday.

Last week's questioning criticism brought some caustic retorts from Republicans in and out of Congress. It had an aftermath yesterday when Senate Republican and Democratic leaders exchanged words that contrasted with early talk of bipartisan cooperation.

The Digest today cited about a score of instances in which it said the President has been "at odds with himself or his party in the last two years."

An article entitled "Administration Without Leadership" said Eisenhower finds himself at odds on foreign policy with a majority of his Joint Chiefs of Staff and with Sen. Knowland of California, his Senate floor leader.

It said the Eisenhower-Dulles policy—which it added has shifted from one of "liberation" and "massive retaliation" to "modus vivendi" and economic assistance—has met with "mounting resistance from the powerful GOP right wing, of which ... Knowland is the foreign policy spokesman." It added:

"In this situation, both the President and Sen. Knowland are seeking to put off a final showdown. Both have declared their difference is not 'basic'—a difference of method rather than of principle.

"At the same time, their policy statements have made it plain that they are as far apart as night from day. Or, as Mr. Eisenhower said himself in his rejection of Knowland's proposal for a blockade of Red China, their disagreement amounts to the difference between war and peace."

Planes Attack

San Jose. Another communique said the plane which had attacked the capital was shot down by anti-aircraft batteries in the Liberia area and plunged into Los Ahogados (The Drowned) River.

Government forces reported they attacked rebels who yesterday seized Villa Quesada, an important highway point about 40 miles northwest of the capital. Civil Guard headquarters announced tonight the troops had retaken the town. An earlier communique said two rebels were killed and two soldiers wounded in the fighting. Twenty rebels were reported captured, one described as "important" but not further identified.

The government also announced invaders from the sea seized Puerto Soley, a small port about 3 miles south of the Nicaraguan border. The communique said invading land forces had captured Penas Blancas, highway point about 50 miles northwest of San Jose. The government declared it hoped to throw the attackers out of both places.

Hot Rod Driver Who Tossed Book At Judge Fined $2

MANKATO, Minn., Jan. 12 (AP)—A youthful hot rod enthusiast haled into court for using an overly-loud muffler tried to reverse the usual judicial procedure by tossing a book at the judge.

Roger Taylor cited in his defense a hot rod magazine article on behalf of throaty mufflers called "How loud is loud."

Judge Leslie Morse studied the article, then ordered a road test of the car—with the judge as a passenger.

His verdict: "The noise almost broke my eardrums."

The fine: $2.

Proposed W. Va. Budget Would Exceed Income

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 12 (AP)—A proposed state budget which is in the red even though it assumes a mild upswing in revenues in the coming fiscal year was placed before the West Virginia Legislature today.

As submitted by the Board of Public Works, the document proposes general revenue fund spending for fiscal 1955-56 which overreaches estimated income from present sources by $6,733,000. The fiscal year begins next July 1.

The state constitution forbids enactment of a deficit budget. Therefore, the 52nd Legislature must tackle the unpopular job of erasing the deficit by paring services, raising taxes, or a combination of both.

Identical budget bills, accompanied by copies of the bulky budget document, were introduced in the Senate and House today, opening day of the 52nd session. The board's recommendations generally would hold the line at the spending levels of the current year.

Recommended general revenue fund appropriations for 1955-56 total $91,369,000, or $445,000 more than appropriations for the current year. But the over-all total of recommended outlays from all funds is down $505,000 to $99,374,000.

The general revenue section is the principal part of the budget. Most operating budgets are appropriated from the general revenue fund, in which is deposited all state income not earmarked by law for specific purposes.

State aid to county school systems, the biggest item in the general revenue budget, would be continued at the present $45,938,000 level next year under the board's recommendations.

An additional $3,842,000 expected to be available from the general school fund would push the total for school aid in 1955-56 to $49,780,000.

Foster said Profetto is alleged to have asked a friend who wears an artificial leg to appear at local Draft Board No. 18, Newark, on May 11, 1953, for physical examination scheduled for Profetto, who subsequently was classified as 4-F.

Probe Of 'Waste' In SRC Proposed

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP) — An eastern shore legislator said tonight he was considering steps toward an overall investigation of "haste and waste in the State Roads Commission."

Del.Cannon (D-Wicomico) said he planned to seek a probe which would "answer some of the questions being raised by citizens about practices and procedures" in the commission's administration of Maryland's 12-year, 568-million dollar highway program.

The Wicomico County Democrat said some of these questions had been asked by H. C. Byrd, his party's unsuccessful candidate against Gov. McKeldin in November, but had not been satisfactorily answered.

Byrd suggested there had been irregularities or inefficiencies in the acquisition of some property for the mammoth program.

Cannon said his proposal of an investigation also stemmed from the results of a public survey on the east-west highway project to carry U. S. Route 50 through Salisbury, his hometown.

He said about 851 residents were polled on the proposed location of the highway and 825 disapproved of the location selected by commission officials.

Aged Woman Found Starving, Brother Dead

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12 (AP)—An aged woman—weighing less than 50 pounds—was found starving and her younger brother dead today in a littered two-room apartment, police said. Officers turned up about $250 in cash and 35 uncashed relief checks totaling several hundred dollars.

Police said Miss Alice Kelly, 84, was seated in a rocking chair and that the body of her brother, John, 79, was upright on a sofa. Both were emaciated, police said.

Physicians at St. Francis Hospital reported Miss Kelly suffering from malnutrition and shock.

A doctor who pronounced the brother dead said he may have died a week ago. Cause of death was not given immediately.

Demo Committee Says President At Odds With Self

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today that since President Eisenhower appeared on the political scene "he has presented so many different faces that no one positive image has emerged."

This was the committee's appraisal of the President's leadership at mid-term as contained in the February issue of the party's official publication, the "Democratic Digest."

It was the second time since Eisenhower's State of the Union message that the committee has challenged the chief executive, although today's assertions went to press before the President read his message to Congress last Thursday.

Last week's questioning criticism brought some caustic retorts from Republicans in and out of Congress. It had an aftermath yesterday when Senate Republican and Democratic leaders exchanged words that contrasted with early talk of bipartisan cooperation.

The Digest today cited about a score of instances in which it said the President has been "at odds with himself or his party in the last two years."

An article entitled "Administration Without Leadership" said Eisenhower finds himself at odds on foreign policy with a majority of his Joint Chiefs of Staff and with Sen. Knowland of California, his Senate floor leader.

It said the Eisenhower-Dulles policy—which it added has shifted from one of "liberation" and "massive retaliation" to "modus vivendi" and economic assistance—has met with "mounting resistance from the powerful GOP right wing, of which ... Knowland is the foreign policy spokesman." It added:

"In this situation, both the President and Sen. Knowland are seeking to put off a final showdown. Both have declared their difference is not 'basic'—a difference of method rather than of principle.

"At the same time, their policy statements have made it plain that they are as far apart as night from day. Or, as Mr. Eisenhower said himself in his rejection of Knowland's proposal for a blockade of Red China, their disagreement amounts to the difference between war and peace."

Planes Attack

San Jose. Another communique said the plane which had attacked the capital was shot down by anti-aircraft batteries in the Liberia area and plunged into Los Ahogados (The Drowned) River.

Government forces reported they attacked rebels who yesterday seized Villa Quesada, an important highway point about 40 miles northwest of the capital. Civil Guard headquarters announced tonight the troops had retaken the town. An earlier communique said two rebels were killed and two soldiers wounded in the fighting. Twenty rebels were reported captured, one described as "important" but not further identified.

The government also announced invaders from the sea seized Puerto Soley, a small port about 3 miles south of the Nicaraguan border. The communique said invading land forces had captured Penas Blancas, highway point about 50 miles northwest of San Jose. The government declared it hoped to throw the attackers out of both places.

Hot Rod Driver Who Tossed Book At Judge Fined $2

MANKATO, Minn., Jan. 12 (AP)—A youthful hot rod enthusiast haled into court for using an overly-loud muffler tried to reverse the usual judicial procedure by tossing a book at the judge.

Roger Taylor cited in his defense a hot rod magazine article on behalf of throaty mufflers called "How loud is loud."

Judge Leslie Morse studied the article, then ordered a road test of the car—with the judge as a passenger.

His verdict: "The noise almost broke my eardrums."

The fine: $2.

Proposed W. Va. Budget Would Exceed Income

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 12 (AP)—A proposed state budget which is in the red even though it assumes a mild upswing in revenues in the coming fiscal year was placed before the West Virginia Legislature today.

As submitted by the Board of Public Works, the document proposes general revenue fund spending for fiscal 1955-56 which overreaches estimated income from present sources by $6,733,000. The fiscal year begins next July 1.

The state constitution forbids enactment of a deficit budget. Therefore, the 52nd Legislature must tackle the unpopular job of erasing the deficit by paring services, raising taxes, or a combination of both.

Identical budget bills, accompanied by copies of the bulky budget document, were introduced in the Senate and House today, opening day of the 52nd session. The board's recommendations generally would hold the line at the spending levels of the current year.

Recommended general revenue fund appropriations for 1955-56 total $91,369,000, or $445,000 more than appropriations for the current year. But the over-all total of recommended outlays from all funds is down $505,000 to $99,374,000.

The general revenue section is the principal part of the budget. Most operating budgets are appropriated from the general revenue fund, in which is deposited all state income not earmarked by law for specific purposes.

State aid to county school systems, the biggest item in the general revenue budget, would be continued at the present $45,938,000 level next year under the board's recommendations.

An additional $3,842,000 expected to be available from the general school fund would push the total for school aid in 1955-56 to $49,780,000.

American-Canadian Relations Meeting Set

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—A distinguished group of Americans and Canadians will meet here Feb. 7 and 8 in an effort to improve understanding between their two countries.

The conference on mutual relations was announced today by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the American Council on Education.

They said its purpose would be to "seek means to further understanding between the two countries through the activites of a wide range of organizations."

Police Seeking "Cheesy" Thief

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Police looked today for a marked man.

Walter Richards reported a man seized a case of coffee and ran from his grocery. He said he threw a wedge of cheese and hit the thief in the back.

The police broadcast of the thief said: "will have cheese on clothes."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK — (INS) — One Sunday in December, 1946, just after the death of Damon Runyon, his friend Walter Winchell made a brief radio appeal for funds to fight cancer in Runyon's memory. He asked for contributions of $1.

A few minutes after the broadcast Winchell was accosted by Swifty Morgan, the character who inspired Runyon's "Lemon Drop Kid." Morgan had heard the broadcast. He gave Winchell $50, then raised another $20—and the Runyon fund was born. Last month it passed the $10,000,000 mark.

Not one penny has ever been deducted for operational expenses. Every dollar ever contributed has been put to work, 100 cents strong. Grants, fellowships and research allotments have been made to universities, clinics, hospitals and men of medicine in 15 countries.

The Runyon fund has produced other miracles beyond the accumulation and distribution of millions. It has helped drive the hushed word "cancer" into the open. Last year 40,000 apparently well people passed through New York's Strang Cancer Prevention Clinic, taking cancer detection examinations. This astonishing total was reflected throughout the country. Cancer was discovered in four out of every 1,000, and 15 per cent of the examinations detected lesions considered pre-cancerous. Those people will live because their unsuspected disease was fought in time.

The battle against the worst of killers continues. Laurence S. Rockefeller, president of Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases, could report 36 advances in cancer research and treatment in his recently issued biennial report. Numbered among these gains was history's first sustained growth of human cancers in laboratory animals, the emergency of the chemical 6-mercaptopurine as a restraining force against leukemia, remarkably improved surgical methods, the expanded study of viruses as a weapon potentially capable of destroying certain human cancers, and the discovery that cortisone will temporarily control some advanced breast cancer.

Your buck goes a long way. And it's just as well, for it's a long road.

Abba Eban, Israel's brilliant young ambassador to the U. S., Tuesday became the first representative of his government to speak before a major Catholic audience in this country. The ambassador addressed the students and faculty at Notre Dame. Excerpt:

"The great issue in this generation is drawn, not between Christianity and Judaism, or between Israel and the Christian nations. The frontier lies rather between those who assert and those who deny the supremacy of faith and of freedom. You and we occupy different areas of tradition, experience and outlook; but we occupy them on the side of that fateful demarcation."

Judge Edward Blythin, who presided over the Sheppard trial, sends me a clipping from a British paper. It has to do with his old home town of Rhyl in Wales and the jaw-cracking village that is not far from it. I quote:

"Holidaymakers in North Wales will now be able to have a Sunday drink if they book a railway ticket to Llanfairpwllgwngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllllantysiliogogogoch. British railways have started a Sunday special from Rhyl with a bar which is allowed to open as the train pulls out of the station."

Seems to me you'd need a shot after stepping up to the window and ordering a ticket to Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgo . . .

Oh, well.

The company recently acquired a large plant and land and is transferring its operation from College Park to Laurel.

Ridgeley To Join In Bicentennial

Ridgeley has offered to stage its annual "homecoming" celebration in conjunction with Cumberland's bicentennial observance.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday he has asked K. Albert Wolfe and William E. Shuck who represent the Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company to meet with the bicentennial steering committee at its first meeting Friday, January 21 at 7:30 p. m. in his office.

Ridgeley firemen are sponsors of the "homecoming."

The Ridgeley event is held for one week and is considered a "natural" activity for the bicentennial celebration in view of the fact that the new two-state bridge across the Potomac River will be opened during this year, the 200th anniversary of the founding of Fort Cumberland.

Ceremonies, surrounding the opening of the new Blue Bridge are expected to play one of the major roles in Cumberland's observance. It was in the immediate area of the bridge that George Washington crossed the stream during his early explorations and military missions through what was then wilderness.

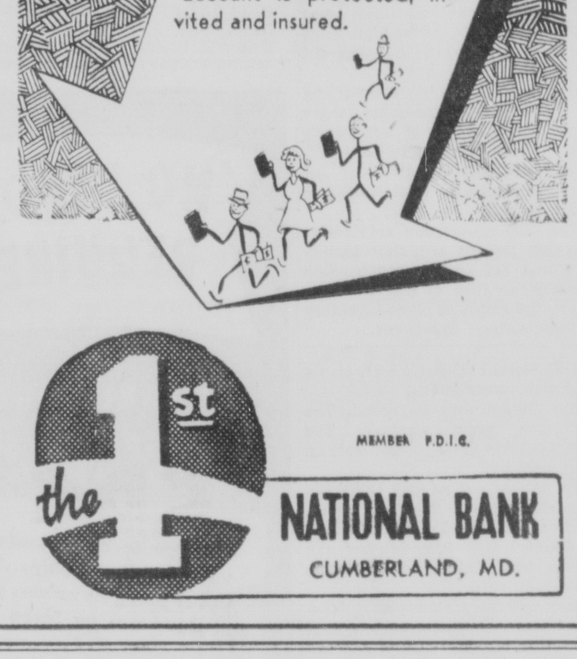

Eves said the Steering Committee will outline activities for the bicentennial and a general committee will be named later.

Wolfe said yesterday the homecoming celebration in Ridgeley is slated for the last week of July and it is planned to issue a pamphlet at the same time outlining that town's history.

M'Keldin, Starting Second Term, Pledges To Maintain Tolerance

Governor Inaugurated In Day Of Fanfare, Ceremony

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin launched his second term today with a splash of color and a solemn pledge to maintain and strengthen Maryland's "noblest traditions. . . of tolerance, brotherhood and human freedom."

The personable Baltimorean, Maryland's first Republican to win the governorship twice, was inaugurated in a day of fanfare and ceremony which also included a brush with legislative politics not listed on the program. For a while the politics threatened to gum up the works.

The program went off without a hitch until the Senate was asked to confirm the governor's nomination of Blanchard Randall, a distinguished 58-year-old administrative aide to the governor, as his secretary of state.

A newly-named Committee on Executive Appointments, headed by Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), delayed the program while it wrangled over Blanchard's confirmation, expected to be automatic and routine.

There were reports later that some of the Democratic senators were miffed because they "hadn't been consulted" in advance.

Senate President Louis Goldstein and his two top aides, Sens. Turnbull (D-Balto County) and Malkus (D-Dorchester) went to the committee and jogged it into action when they heard what was happening.

Otherwise things ran smoothly.

The 54-year-old McKeldin, eighth of 11 children of a Baltimore stonecutter, took his oath of office promptly at noon from Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune of the Court of Appeals.

His left hand resting on a stack of four Bibles opened to favorite passages, he swore to uphold Maryland's constitution and faithfully execute the duties of his office.

Maryland's other State officers, two U. S. senators, five of the seven congressmen and other dignitaries, and members of their families, were among the hundreds who jammed the Senate chamber along with legislators to see the Republican chief executive begin a new chapter in the State's political history.

Then came the ceremony, in the executive offices, of nominating and swearing in the Secretary of State. Once the wrinkle which developed over that was ironed out, the governor and his official party, which also included former U. S. House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass), went to the east portico of the Statehouse for the inaugural address.

McKeldin spoke from a wooden platform to a crowd estimated by State Police at 2,500 to 3,000 persons who stood in the chill of the afternoon on the Statehouse gfounds.

He urged that Maryland perpetuate the traditions which he said had fostered its greatness—the spirit of freedom, tolerance and the brotherhood of man.

He said the United States is confronted with perils both serious and numerous but that the greatest present danger comes from "clever propagandists who are seeking to turn the minds of men against us."

"Liberty, tolerance and brotherhood are all under furious attack from many quarters," the governor said.

"Maryland is in danger indeed, but the enemy bombers are still beyond the horizon. The danger that is directly over our heads is not a threat to any material thing, not to the things that might be destroyed by atom bombs, but to the greater part of Maryland that lives and moves and has its being in the minds and hearts of men."

He said Maryland was born in freedom and tolerance and he urged the people to "let it be known in every clime and to the ends of the earth that on the soil of Maryland every man is of sacred worth as a child of God, and all share equally in the responsibilities and blessings of freedom."

"To that end we dedicate ourselves anew to the further advancement of human values as the greatest contribution we may make to our day and age," the governor added.

"Therefore, I solemnly dedicate myself not only to preserve and uphold the Constitution of our State, but to maintain and strengthen its noblest traditions as well, the traditions of tolerance, brotherhood and human freedom without limitation."

Maryland Claims For Jobless Pay Take 3,000 Drop

BALTIMORE, Jan. 12 (AP)—New claims for jobless pay dropped more than 3,000 in Maryland last week compared to the previous week and one official said:

"There isn't any question, conditions are improving."

A spokesman for the State Employment Security Board added:

"Unless our forecasting is off, conditions will get better gradually. There will be no sudden spurt, but a gradual, healthy recovery.

"We expect conditions to be definitely better by March 1. We do not look for another 1953, but 1955 should be better than 1954."

The State Department of Employment Security said new claims for unemployment pay totaled 5,559 last week compared to 8,613 in the last week of 1954. It marked the first time in 15 months new claims were less than in the comparable period a year earlier. In the first week of 1954 there were 7,883 new claims.

The big drop last week was in the counties which reported only 1,884 new claims compared to 4,087 the previous week. The drop in Baltimore was only from 4,274 to 3,204.

Usual year-end layoffs kept the total number of benefit checks at a high level last week with $718,607 paid out to 29,316 workers.

The previous week there were 22,260 checks for $565,230 and in the first week of 1954 there were 17,686 for $421,514. At the high mark last spring 33,000 were going out for $800,000.

The more favorable comparison of new claims indicated there would be no repeat of last year's layoff trend that continued building up until May. Indications are for a turn-down in total checks in a few weeks.

The ESB spokesman said many year-end layoffs are only temporary and are in the construction industry because of the weather, or are the result of plant inventory or maintenance shutdowns.

Inauguration Plans Upset By Squabble

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—A backroom squabble over a piece of routine business upset the timetable for the history-making second inauguration of Gov. McKeldin today.

The business was the appointment of Blanchard Randall, an assistant to the governor, as the new secretary of state.

Randall had been named a few minutes earlier just after McKeldin took his oath of office as the first Republican governor ever to begin a second term in Maryland.

Then Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) immediately asked his newly appointed Committee on Executive Nominations, headed by Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), to retire for what was expected to be a routine meeting to recommend that the appointment be confirmed.

The 11 committeemen went into Goldstein's office while McKeldin waited in his executive offices upstairs for the formal notice of Randall's confirmation.

Thousands of politicians, spectators and visiting officials waited in the chill breezes sweeping the East portico of the Statehouse where McKeldin was due in a few minutes to make his inaugural address.

Randall, in morning clothes complete with a silk top hat, waited too.

In the meantime, Phipps launched a move to postpone the confirmation, and the hassle was on. For half an hour the committee wrangled.

"Isn't this terrible?" asked McKeldin, turning to an aide upstairs. "I've never seen anything like it. What's keeping them?"

The question spread around the Senate, down the corridor and through the crowd outside.

One of the principals later reported this is what kept them:

After Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) made a motion that Randall's appointment be confirmed and Sen. Hoff (R-Carroll) seconded it, Phipps threw sand into the ceremony gears.

He expressed resentment over McKeldin's failure to consult members of the heavily Democratic Senate about the appointment. He asked whether confirmation should not be held up a little.

Freshman Sen. DiDomenico (D-Balto 2nd) put the postponement idea into the form of a motion. Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 1st), also a freshman, seconded it.

The motion was discussed. The discussion grew warmer. The crowd outside grew colder. Half an hour went by.

His patience at an end, Goldstein rounded up his two top aides, Majority Leader Turnbull (D-Balto County) and Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester), and they invaded the committee room.

They told the postponement advocates this was unheard of, that senatorial courtesy called for immediate confirmation, and that the State of Maryland was waiting to hear the governor.

Seconds later the committee filed out of the room. Some members looked embarrassed.

Randall was confirmed as the new secretary of state, and the inaugural ceremonies resumed.

D. C. Bar Refuses To Admit Negroes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The District of Columbia Bar Association has rejected a move to admit Negro and other non-white attorneys to membership.

Officials announced a move to eliminate the word "white" from membership requirements had failed by 18 votes to obtain the needed two-thirds margin.

A similar proposal in 1950 received about 45 per cent favorable response as compared with the 65.7 per cent in the latest balloting..

Big Still Seized; Three Arrested

ROCKVILLE, Md., Jan. 12 (AP)—A hectic backwoods footchase put three alleged moonshiners in jail yesterday and resulted in smashing of one of the largest stills ever found in Montgomery County.

Detective Capt. G. W. Linthicum said the trio was captured in the woods near Bucklodge Creek, 15 miles north of Gaithersburg, by four Federal agents and three county detectives.

He said the still, capable of producing 100 gallons of raw whisky a day, was found Saturday in thick woods a mile and a half from the nearest road. The still, 28 barrels of sour mash, and cooking barrels were camouflaged under canvas, leaves and honeysuckle vines, the captain said.

Arrested and held under bond on charges of illegal whisky manufacture and possession of untaxed whisky, were:

Henry B. Smith, 30; his brother, Wayne, 25, and John Thomas Bronson, 29. The Smith brothers were listed as now living in Boyds, Md.

Md. House Committee Chairmen Appointed

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP) — Del. Bloom (D-Washington) was named chairman of the Grand Inquest Committee in the House of Delegates today by Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th).

Luber also appointed Del. Dabrowski (D-Balto 1st) chairman of Claims and Del. Cardin (D-Balto 5th) chairman of Intergovernmental Cooperation.

The speaker confirmed previously indicated appointments of Del. White (R-Wicomico) as chairman of Agricultural and Natural Resources, Del. Tawes (D-Somerset) of the Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries and Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico) of Banking, Insurance and Social Security.

M'Keldin, Starting Second Term, Pledges To Maintain Tolerance

Governor Inaugurated In Day Of Fanfare, Ceremony

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin launched his second term today with a splash of color and a solemn pledge to maintain and strengthen Maryland's "noblest traditions. . . of tolerance, brotherhood and human freedom."

The personable Baltimorean, Maryland's first Republican to win the governorship twice, was inaugurated in a day of fanfare and ceremony which also included a brush with legislative politics not listed on the program. For a while the politics threatened to gum up the works.

The program went off without a hitch until the Senate was asked to confirm the governor's nomination of Blanchard Randall, a distinguished 58-year-old administrative aide to the governor, as his secretary of state.

A newly-named Committee on Executive Appointments, headed by Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), delayed the program while it wrangled over Blanchard's confirmation, expected to be automatic and routine.

There were reports later that some of the Democratic senators were miffed because they "hadn't been consulted" in advance.

Senate President Louis Goldstein and his two top aides, Sens. Turnbull (D-Balto County) and Malkus (D-Dorchester) went to the committee and jogged it into action when they heard what was happening.

Otherwise things ran smoothly.

The 54-year-old McKeldin, eighth of 11 children of a Baltimore stonecutter, took his oath of office promptly at noon from Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune of the Court of Appeals.

His left hand resting on a stack of four Bibles opened to favorite passages, he swore to uphold Maryland's constitution and faithfully execute the duties of his office.

Maryland's other State officers, two U. S. senators, five of the seven congressmen and other dignitaries, and members of their families, were among the hundreds who jammed the Senate chamber along with legislators to see the Republican chief executive begin a new chapter in the State's political history.

Rehearsals for the production have been under way a month, with Mrs. Joseph E. Mackert in charge of the dancing. Charles England is directing the stage crew, Neus said. Music for the minstrel will be by Art Shafer's orchestra.

A feature of the minstrel will be the introduction of an alma mater-type song, "Hail LaSalle." Music for the song was written by James W. Burns, while the lyrics are by Neus and Francis L. Werner.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When you refuse an invitation, whether by wish or necessity, refrain from elaborate explanation. Ideally, an invitation is put so as to demand only a simple "yes" or "no" answer. In such cases, you can say no, period. If you are pressed for the reason behind your negative answer, it is enough to say, pleasantly, "I've made other plans."

Once you start making excuses you may find yourself on the spot. Imagine this circumstance:: You are invited to a party which for some reason, you prefer not to attend. You excuse yourself by saying that an old school chum will be in town that evening. What happens, then, if your would-be-hostess insists that you bring the non-existent friend along?

One of the Powers Girls faced this predicament recently. When she told me about it, she added: "Mr. Powers, I've learned a lesson . . . no more little white lies for me! They're too easy to offer, and too difficult to cover up."

Be Considerate

Etiquette and good manners spring from consideration for others. It is far more considerate to protect another's ego from injury by saying "no" than by fabricating an excuse which is obviously false, or which may be proven false later. How embarrassing if you trip yourself by telling the person whose invitation you refused (perhaps because of the schooldays friend) what a wonderful time you had at some other party on the same night!

When you are tempted to accept an invitation for diplomatic reasons, knowing you won't fulfill the social obligation, think twice! It is far easier to refuse—point blank but politely—than to accept immediately and be forced to make up an excuse a day or two later. That's the kind of situation where you are most likely to become involved in lengthy explanations, or petty prevarications, which will plague you at a future date.

Stick To Facts

Protect your own reputation for good manners, and your friends' feelings, by learning how to say "No." Sticking to the plain, everyday facts may seem hard at first, but you'll come to appreciate the advantage of that simple negative over the complicated, insincere excuse.

That little word "no" may save you embarrassment!

YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career — every girl or woman now in business who is eager to reach top-flight success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job . . . reveals secrets on how to hold your job. See how easy it is to choose a suitable wardrobe. Save time — uncertainty — needless worry through these short cut steps in charm that lead to YOUR SUCCESS. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed return envelope, for a copy of the booklet, YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER.

Stock Market Prices Drop For Second Straight Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—For the second straight session, the stock market eased a little lower today.

It was just a week ago today that the market broke sharply after the Federal Reserve Board raised credit requirements for buying stocks as a curb on speculation.

The break lasted two days, and then a two-day rally wiped out most of the fall.

Steels were higher most of the time today, and there were some good individual plus signs in motors, mail order issues, coppers, building materials, airlines, and some low-priced stocks.

Railroads were the hardest hit of major divisions, and also lower on balance were the oils, chemicals, electrical equipments, radio-TV, aircrafts, and utilities.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 30 cents, the same as yesterday. It closed at $153.90. The industrial component of the average managed to gain 20 cents while railroads lost $1.00 and utilities were off 10 cents.

There were 1,269 individual issues traded of which 435 advanced and 589 declined with 82 new highs and 3 new lows for 1954-55.

Volume was down to 3,400,000 shares, lowest in nearly three weeks, as compared with 3,680,000 shares traded yesterday.

Lonaconing Phone Office To Be Named Homestead 3

Telephone customers in the Lonaconing area have been notified that all Lonaconing telephones will receive a new central office name—HOmestead 3—early in the summer.

Similar letters concerning name changes will be mailed to customers in Oakland, Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Blaine, Mt. Savage, Flintstone, Wellersburg and State Line within the next few days, according to C. Walter Haschert, manager of the Cumberland telephone office.

In the letter to Lonaconing customers, R. C. Diehl, manager, said HOmestead 3 is one of the new standard telephone names being introduced in Allegany County to conform to a nationwide numbering plan which will enable operators, and eventually customers, actually to dial direct to many points, providing faster long distance telephone service.

Diehl pointed out that only the central office name will be changed, and that each customer's new number will appear in the new telephone directory which will be distributed before the change is made.

He suggested that customers limit orders of any materials on which their present telephone numbers appear.

Customers will be notified later of the actual date of the change, and will receive new telephone number plates prior to the change.

The names of all of the smaller telephone offices in the Cumberland area must be changed in connection with the conversion of Cumberland telephone service from manual to dial operation.

The new names for exchanges in this area will be:

Cumberland — PArkview 2 and PArkview 4.
Oakland—DEerfield 4.
Friendsville—SHadyside 6.
Kitzmiller—GLenview 3.
Blaine, W. Va.—HIllcrest 6.
Mt. Savage—COlony 4.
Lonaconing—HOmestead 3.
Flintstone—GReenleaf 8.
Wellersburg—DAvenport 4.
State Line—ROger 7.

Lonaconing Phone Office To Be Named Homestead 3

Telephone customers in the Lonaconing area have been notified that all Lonaconing telephones will receive a new central office name—HOmestead 3—early in the summer.

Similar letters concerning name changes will be mailed to customers in Oakland, Friendsville, Kitzmiller, Blaine, Mt. Savage, Flintstone, Wellersburg and State Line within the next few days, according to C. Walter Haschert, manager of the Cumberland telephone office.

In the letter to Lonaconing customers, R. C. Diehl, manager, said HOmestead 3 is one of the new standard telephone names being introduced in Allegany County to conform to a nationwide numbering plan which will enable operators, and eventually customers, actually to dial direct to many points, providing faster long distance telephone service.

Diehl pointed out that only the central office name will be changed, and that each customer's new number will appear in the new telephone directory which will be distributed before the change is made.

He suggested that customers limit orders of any materials on which their present telephone numbers appear.

Customers will be notified later of the actual date of the change, and will receive new telephone number plates prior to the change.

The names of all of the smaller telephone offices in the Cumberland area must be changed in connection with the conversion of Cumberland telephone service from manual to dial operation.

The new names for exchanges in this area will be:

Cumberland — PArkview 2 and PArkview 4.
Oakland—DEerfield 4.
Friendsville—SHadyside 6.
Kitzmiller—GLenview 3.
Blaine, W. Va.—HIllcrest 6.
Mt. Savage—COlony 4.
Lonaconing—HOmestead 3.
Flintstone—GReenleaf 8.
Wellersburg—DAvenport 4.
State Line—ROger 7.

Paratrooper Survives Flying Boxcar Crash

Pvt. Edward V. Yost Jr., 21, of Berkeley Springs, was among 35 paratroopers who parachuted to safety Tuesday when a C-119 Flying Boxcar crashed and burned at Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn.

The contingent, members of the 503d Airborne Infantry Regiment from Fort Campbell, Ky., was headed for Alaskan maneuvers.

Mrs. Isiminger

Boone Street, and Mrs. H. W. Eliason, 655 Washington Street.

At the report phase of the meeting, it was shown that 45 new adult leaders have been trained in scouting during 1954. The girl membership in Cumberland is now 652 and adult membership is 191. During the year, six new Brownie troops were formed; one new Senior troop organized, and seven new Intermediate troops chartered. Three troops were abandoned or disbanded in 1954 for want of adult leaders or sponsors. The members, however, were largely absorbed into other troops.

As of December 1953, the council numbered 26 troops in Cumberland. As of December 1954, the number of troops was 35 in the city, plus three at Romney, which is now affiliated with the Cumberland Council.

There are two troops here without adult leadership and interested adults are needed to head them, the report showed.

There are 25 Scout fathers and friends known as the Cumberland Do-Dads who help the organization in many ways, especially with maintainence work at the scout camp at Green Ridge.

It was also reported that in 1953 there were 100 girls at day camp, 96 at established camp and 86 at troop camps. In 1954, an increase was shown with 153 at day camp, 137 at established camp and 97 at troop camps.

It was shown in the report that the Cumberland Girl Scouts program of character building and citizenship training is financed largely by contributions from the Community Chest. In 1954, the income from the Chest was $8,247. This was used for salaries of executive help, training, materials and supplies.

Calendar sales produced $23.46. Gifts and miscellaneous income totaled $179.13. The cookie sale, an annual event, produced $1,341.85. Fees for camp registrations and the like totaled $2,772.86.

The report explains in detail that no Community Chest money is used in the camping program, since this is financed entirely from registration fees. These fees cover board at camp, and the cost of camp counsellors. The cookie sale fund is used entirely to buy equipment for the camp and the activity is a project of the camp committee.

The only other income is $100 which is the registration fee from the Romney area, and this money is used entirely for services rendered troops and leaders there.

Mrs. Joseph Williams, who has been acting president since the resignation of Mrs. A. M. Spioch, who moved to Baltimore a couple of months ago, presented the annual report and complimented Mrs. Spioch for her ardent work in furthering the expansion of scouting here.

Miss Helen Sellers, Washington, community advisor to the Cumberland Council from national Girl Scout headquarters, brought greetings from national, and spoke briefly on the program. She will be here today for conference with various officers, leaders and volunteers.

As of December 1953, the council numbered 26 troops in Cumberland. As of December 1954, the number of troops was 35 in the city, plus three at Romney, which is now affiliated with the Cumberland Council.

There are two troops here without adult leadership and interested adults are needed to head them, the report showed.

There are 25 Scout fathers and friends known as the Cumberland Do-Dads who help the organization in many ways, especially with maintainence work at the scout camp at Green Ridge.

It was also reported that in 1953 there were 100 girls at day camp, 96 at established camp and 86 at troop camps. In 1954, an increase was shown with 153 at day camp, 137 at established camp and 97 at troop camps.

It was shown in the report that the Cumberland Girl Scouts program of character building and citizenship training is financed largely by contributions from the Community Chest. In 1954, the income from the Chest was $8,247. This was used for salaries of executive help, training, materials and supplies.

Calendar sales produced $23.46. Gifts and miscellaneous income totaled $179.13. The cookie sale, an annual event, produced $1,341.85. Fees for camp registrations and the like totaled $2,772.86.

The report explains in detail that no Community Chest money is used in the camping program, since this is financed entirely from registration fees. These fees cover board at camp, and the cost of camp counsellors. The cookie sale fund is used entirely to buy equipment for the camp and the activity is a project of the camp committee.

The only other income is $100 which is the registration fee from the Romney area, and this money is used entirely for services rendered troops and leaders there.

Mrs. Joseph Williams, who has been acting president since the resignation of Mrs. A. M. Spioch, who moved to Baltimore a couple of months ago, presented the annual report and complimented Mrs. Spioch for her ardent work in furthering the expansion of scouting here.

Miss Helen Sellers, Washington, community advisor to the Cumberland Council from national Girl Scout headquarters, brought greetings from national, and spoke briefly on the program. She will be here today for conference with various officers, leaders and volunteers.

Southeast Asia Can Save Itself

Will Southeast Asia go Communist? If Red China decides to conquer the whole area, there seems to be no military power to stop such a move. But most experts on Asian affairs seem to be convinced that Peiping prefers to try infiltration, propaganda and subversion first.

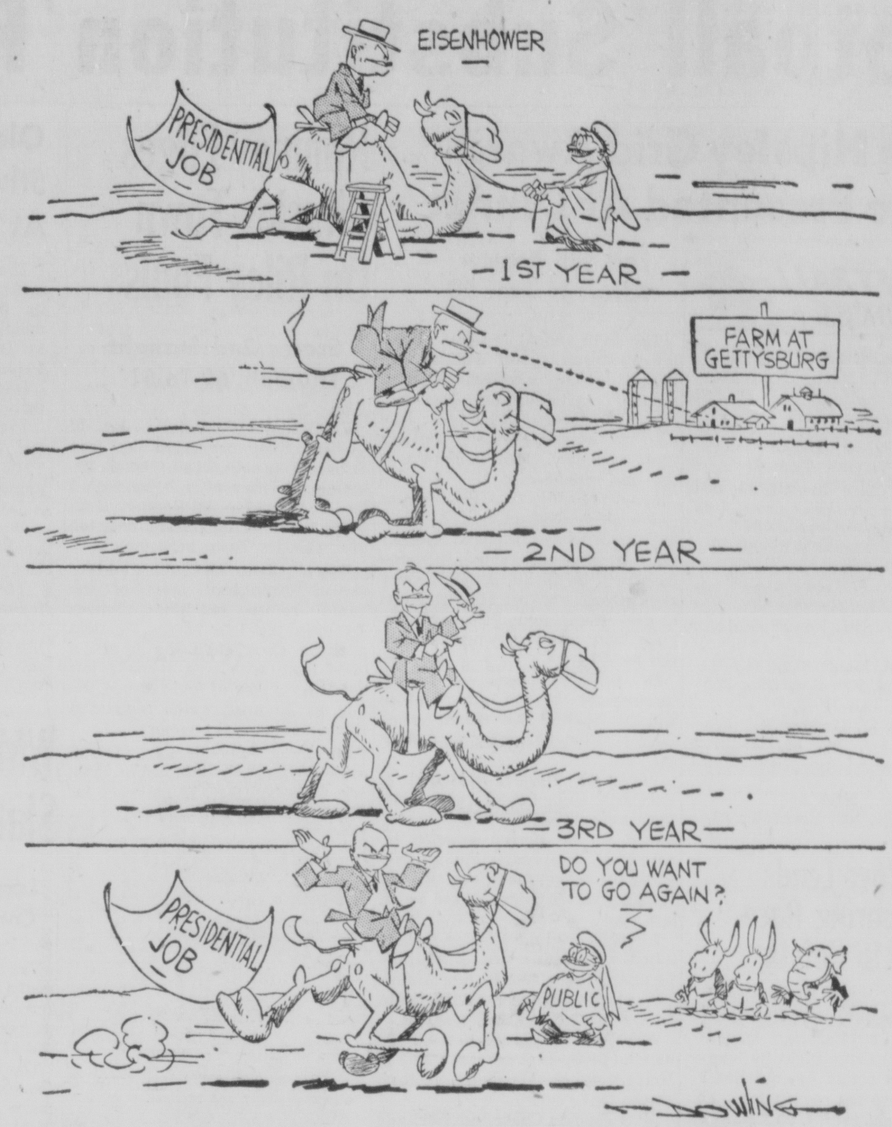

Favorable as Red China's position seems in many ways, there are also factors operating against the Chinese Communists. The Chinese, as people, are not popular in areas in which they have settled. Nobody wants to be ruled by China. Furthermore, the Reds are at a disadvantage in attempting to exploit poverty in Southeast Asia, a food surplus area whose people enjoy shelter, food, water and warmth to a degree rare in that underprivileged continent.

Quick dollar aid by the U. S. failed to save Nationalist China and Indochina. Weak governments simply cannot make effective use of much dollar aid. It is imperative that Red China be deterred from further aggression, but how? Japanese defense buildup is important. The Seventh Fleet is a mighty deterrent to Peiping's ambitions. Beyond that there is only obscurity.

It would be a mistake to send American farm surpluses to Asia. Southeast Asian countries live by selling foodstuffs. Thailand, for instance, cannot sell all her rice.

Hope of saving Southeast Asia from the Communists lies almost entirely in the hands of the people who live there. The U. S. can help them mightily, but perhaps most by helping to train more Asians to administer their affairs and their governments.

Not So Bad Once You Get Used To It

These Days

Who Promoted Peress?

It is perhaps a sound adage to "Let sleeping dogs lie." The Peress case is one which does not seriously involve the now celebrated dentist, but it has affected the careers of many others, and has since last March stirred the country by the quarrel between the Army and Senator McCarthy. It has split the Republican party right down the middle, and has been an embarrassment to everybody who came close to it.

The case of Peress itself is hardly important. There must be many instances in the Army, which processes millions of young men and women, as the phrase goes, in which papers are inadequately or improperly made out and are negligently handled. It was therefore surprising to those who were close to the case that the Army should have made such a fuss over it. The answer to all of Senator McCarthy's questions could have been—"Sorry! Here is another paper snafu. In the handling of millions of papers, there will be a snafu here and there. We shall make whatever corrections are needed and we shall explore our methods to insure that there are fewer errors."

But no such answer was given. As I have been mentioned, too often, in the original Stevens-McCarthy testimony, and as I was present during a conference between them, and had some telephone calls, by his initiation, with John Adams, the Army report issued last Friday comes as no surprise to me. I knew that John Adams had pushed the "honorable discharge" of Major Peress as a solution of the problem. He thought that if Peress was got out of the Army, McCarthy ought to be satisfied.

Unfortunately, the issue was never Peress, just as in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases, the issue should never have been Dr. Klaus Fuchs or Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The issue was, with regard to Peress and should have been in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases—who makes it easy for spies, subversives and such to infiltrate the agencies of government?

This is very unpleasant business and everyone who engages in it burns his fingers, if not more than that. Definitely it looks like persecution. Those who do these jobs look like relentless, fanatical persecutors. Nobody has yet found a method of unearthing spies and subversives pleasantly. The Subcommittee on Rules of the Senate, headed by Senator William Jenner, has held long hearings on the subject of such investigations and has come up with a report on procedural rules which look very good in the report and ought to be adopted, if for no other reason than experimentally to see whether they will achieve the end desired, which is the accumulation of information.

As long as executive departments can withhold valuable and valid information from congressional committees, no rules will help the committees. For instance, had the Army's report on Peress been sent to the Congress last March, when as much was known about the case as is known today, there would have been no disgraceful fracas between the Army and a committee of Congress. Now, it has to start all over again to straighten out the record.

The essence of the problem is psychological, not political. Men do not like to admit errors if they can cover them up. In any large organization, errors will be made and some will be corrected; some are not ever discovered; some may affect the course of history. It is the nature of man to try to cover up his mistakes, to avoid being caught, to hope that if they show up at all, it will be in the hands of a successor. The strong man who can say: "When I make a mistake, it's a beaut," is rare, particularly in official life.

Nevertheless, it needs to be known how the spies, subversives and perverts managed to get into our government operations and to stay there. Catching some little fellow down the line is an individual act that means little or nothing. What needs to be known is the pattern of operations that made it so easy for them to get in and stay in. Maybe no individual is to blame; maybe it is a faulty system of government employment; maybe it is just the normal American attitude of live and let live. Whatever it is, Secretary Stevens of the Army has reopened the door to another series of investigations.

Scandal-Purged Bureau Of Internal Revenue Involved In More Politics

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Some interesting things are going on inside the Internal Revenue Bureau which may merit another congressional probe of how the nation's taxes are collected.

The closing days of the Truman administration were highlighted by serious tax scandals—first revealed in this column—which led to the resignations of Commissioner George Schoeneman and Counselor Charles Oliphant; plus the prosecution of an earlier commissioner and assitant—Joe Nunan and Dan Bolich.

These tax scandals supplied Republican campaigners with some of their potent political ammunition, and it was presumed that when they took over Internal Revenue, it would be run with Old Dutch Cleanser spotlessness.

However, politics seems to have crept back into the tax-collecting agency.

This column has already reported how Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, after entertaining Senator McCarthy in his home in Richmond, Va., and introducing him to a local audience as one of "our greatest living Americans," assigned a run-of-the-mine agent to the job of scrutinizing McCarthy's tax returns. McCarthy has had to pay extra taxes to the State of Wisconsin. The Senate Investigating Committee also found him using money received to fight communism to speculate on the soybean market. But Commissioner Andrews has taken no public action.

On top of this, here is the latest political development inside the agency which is supposed to collect taxes impartially.

Nation's No. 1 Heel

When T. Coleman Andrews took over tax collecting, one of the hottest fraud cases he inherited involved a top Republican leader in West Virginia, R. J. Funkhouser, manufacturer of O'Sullivan heels, sometimes referred to as "America's No. 1 Heel." John Dunlap, career agent whom President Truman appointed commissioner to clean up Internal Revenue, not only was preparing a fraud case against Funkhouser but was checking transfers of funds to South America because of rumors Funkhouser planned to leave the USA.

Today, however, the tax case against the O'Sullivan heel manufacturer has been virtually put on the shelf. The agent who was handling it was called off and promoted. While he was off the case, Commissioner Andrews' office settled fraud cases against three of Funkhouser's top executives implicated in making kickbacks to him.

Meanwhile, another tax case against a neighboring political leader, E. Brooke Lee, previously settled, was reopened. Lee is one of the leading Democrats of Maryland. Funkhouser is one of the leading Republicans of West Virginia.

In Lee's case, H. O. Bryant, review officer of the Internal Revenue Criminal Section, had previously ruled that no fraud was involved, and a civil adjustment was made. Lee had been charged with taking a capital-gains tax on the sale of undeveloped real estate instead of paying a straight income tax during the years 1947, '48 and '49.

Bryant ruled in 1952 that "there remained no question of fraud or concealed income," and the case was considered closed. Now it has been reopened, and the Justice Department is pushing for a criminal indictment.

Padded Expenses

In contrast, here are some of the facts in the case of GOP leader Funkhouser which has now been put on the shelf.

Tax agents found that for 11 years Funkhouser required one of his executives, Henry Jennings, to pad his expense account $300 a month, and then pay that amount over to him. During this period, Funkhouser got $39,600 as a nice little windfall.

In order to pay Funkhouser his kickback without running in the red himself, Jenning charged up fictitious mileage at seven cents a mile for trips he had never taken.

When Internal Revenue agents began checking Funkhouser's tax returns, they got statements from three of his executives regarding secret payments to him. Two had padded their expenses in order to kick back. A third had been paying him in the guise of a fictitious loan.

One of the three, Henry Jennings, told Funkhouser that he had given the tax agents a statement and was promptly fired.

Reached at his box factory near Charles Town, W. Va., Jennings admitted padding his expense accounts for Funkhouser to the tune of $300 a month and sending him the money by personal check. He estimated the total amount he had paid Funkhouser to be around $35,000, though Internal Revenue figures it at $39,600.

Jennings has now purchased a box factory from Hal Vosa, a Funkhouser functionary, for $68,000; also has a contract from Funkhouser to make boxes for him. As a result, he was loath to talk, said Funkhouser would retaliate by taking away his contract. However, when confronted with the facts, Jennings admitted they were correct.

Despite this, the tax case prepared against Funkhouser under Commissioner John Dunlap, career man, has now been virtually put on the shelf by Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, political appointee.

Handling Of "Security Risks" Hinges On One Question

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The hullabaloo being raised in Congress about the handling of "security risks" boils down to a simple question. Is the safety of the United States government and of the American people of paramount importance or is it to be superseded by legalistic barriers now advocated to spare government employes the hazards of investigation? Is even dismissal by the government as a matter of precaution to be subjected to frustrating devices so that ferreting out of subversives is to be made more difficult?

Too many people think the matter of security is an academic question. Many of them, because they dislike Senator McCarthy, now are flippantly quipping that "McCarthyism is a wasm." But it is turning out to be a grim joke. For "McCarthyism" — which was a word first widely used in the columns of the "Daily Worker," the Communist organ — has apparently not yet sufficiently aroused the government to the necessity of taking better security measures.

Democrats Divided

Thus, in the last few days some tragic exposures have been made but nevertheless the Democratic party in Congress remains divided on how to meet the dangers of Communist infiltration. While one group of Democrats in Congress is asserting vigorously that they will not relax their interest in the subject of ridding the government of Communists, another group is about to launch an investigation to prove that the Eisenhower administration has been too drastic with its dismissals of employes.

In the midst of it all, Representative Keating of New York, Republican, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, has issued the following statement:

"A man by the name of Joseph Petersen, a former code expert in the National Security Agency, has just been sentenced to seven years in prison for espionage. It now has been revealed that the way he was caught was by means of a routine check under the new security program instituted by President Eisenhower.

"Here was a very serious security risk who had been working for the government for years and who would still be on the payroll today, undetected and unapprehended, had this administration not acted promptly and vigorously."

Some Testimony Heard Privately

The court proceedings in the Petersen case were mysteriously fragmentary. Again and again the court announced that certain testimony would be heard privately "in chambers." The documents that were presented in open court were few and, it is known, did not compare in their sensational nature with the many withheld from public record.

Petersen made a confession which, in part, was placed in the record. He said:

"I recall furnishing verbal information from this document to Giaccomo Stuydt, whom I knew to be a Dutch national employed at the Dutch embassy at that time. This information was given to Stuydt at different times and at different places . . .

"I neglected to return this document to Arlington Hall (National Security Agency) because I was emotionally disturbed as I realized the gravity of my actions to my country in illegally furnishing information from a secret United States government document to an unauthorized foreign national."

What happened after the Dutch government got the data? Was it relayed by someone to Moscow?

Petersen carried away documents from 1948 to 1952, and some of them were of such a vital nature that U. S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan, in referring to them said: "Their disclosure could have, and may have for all the court knows, led to very, very serious consequences to the security of the United States."

Peress Case Cited

Members of Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, are showing unhappiness over another episode — the belated Army report on the case of Major Peress, who, according to a comment in the Senate by Senator Daniel of Texas, was a member of the Communist party yet was given an "honorable discharge" after his papers for nearly two years before showed that he had refused to answer a question concerning his Communist connections. Yet Senator McCarthy was vilified and censure recommended by the Watkins Committee because he denounced the general who helped to cover up the case.

Senator Francis Case of South Dakota, Republican, a member of that committee, now says it has been proven that the "Army had weighed the request of a Senate committee chairman against that of a suspected subversive and decided in favor of the latter."

The South Dakota senator, it will be recalled, told the Senate he changed his view when he discovered that the Army had discharged Major Peress after and not before Senator McCarthy's letter seeking a postponement of that step had been received by the Army.

On top of all this there's a "left wing" drive on to surround government employes with complex procedural devices which would supersede the rights of the American government to protect its own safety.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

John Foster Dulles is the man of 1954 for taking the high hat out of international diplomacy.

A diplomat is a fellow who plays both ends against the middle like a boy eating a frankfurter.

At the start Foster was pushed around like an actor's trunk.

He flew in more directions than a dropped egg.

Then he got a toe-hold on a parallel and did a blondin on a dotted line.

We figured Foster's head was in the clouds and we were right. He came down only to refuel and sign treaties.

He put over the Manila pact in Asia, the all-Havana filler in the Caribbean and the Formosa-for-Formosans formula with Chiang Kai-shek. If you stay on an island 30 days it belongs to you.

Then the fur began to fly. About this time Christmas mink always does.

Foster persuaded Mohammicker-Dingbat to loosen the Commie torniquet on Iranian oil for the lumps of China. He ironed out the Trieste hasslement with a dash of savoir faire hatched of long experience. He persuaded Syngman Rhee that half-a-peninsula was better than none. He was the third man in the Suez ring and now England has no canals to worry about except on the Manchester-Liverpool axis.

Giggles In Bangkok

By Joseph Alsop

BANGKOK, Thailand

In Bangkok, where they like to laugh, the current joke in the more literate circles is the cover of an American news magazine, showing a handsome portrait of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with the legend, "He strengthened the outposts."

For Thailand is the richest prize in all the vast, rich southeast Asian area which is now the primary target of world Communist infiltration and aggression. And the outposts hereabouts have not been noticeably strengthened.

Despite the contrary advice of Secretary Dulles, one key outpost, northern Indochina, has already been surrendered. The enemy has been virtually handed the keys to two more outposts, southern Indochina and the offshore islands of Formosa.

The sacrifice of the other Indochina outposts has placed the weak but strategically vital border states, Laos and Cambodia in most deadly danger. If both Laos and Cambodia are allowed to fall, no one in his senses here thinks this charming, feckless, oddly governed country will be able to withstand the resulting increase of Communist pressure. And so the chain reaction will proceed with mounting force.

At Home It's Remote

At home, perhaps, the prospect of this vast upheaval in the world balance of power may still seem comfortably remote, It does not seem so here, for several different reasons.

The first is the simple reason of geography. Back in the bad old imperialist days, when the French seized Thailand's border provinces to form Laos and enlarge Cambodia, they drew the new frontier with the purpose of preparing their next planned move, which was to have been a grab for Bangkok itself. Thus any force concentrated at Sisophon on the Cambodian border, looks right down the throat of any government in Bangkok. It is only 168 miles, and easy walking or driving distance all the way, with no natural defense positions anywhere, between Sisophon and this city.

When the time of more acute danger may probably begin, a couple of years from now, the army of the Viet Minh will comprise somewhere between 15 and 20 tough regular divisions. The present Thai forces, which are not likely to be effectively increased, comprise an army of about 50,000 combat troops and approximately 15,000 paramilitary police. Hence the unbalance will be overwhelming.

Mere Threat Dangerous

Consequently no allied SEATO or other force could arrive in time to save Bangkok from a determined Viet Minh attack from Sisophon. A relieving force would only "liberate" Thailand after it had been subjugated, pillaged and purged. This being a prospect which few Thais enjoy, the mere appearance of an enemy force at Sisophon, the mere threat to invade, might well bring Thailand down as Joshua's trumpets brought down the Walls of Jericho.

"Massive retaliation" will be complicated to employ in these circumstances. It is much wiser to stop talking about massive retaliation, and to face the hard fact that if Cambodia falls, it is almost sure to be fatal to Thailand, one way or another.

As for the loss of Laos, it will be enormously dangerous but it may not be fatal. And it is just as well that there is this much difference between Laos and Cambodia; for whereas Cambodia is virtually free of Viet Minh infiltration, the Viet Minh stooges, the "Free Laos" are strongly established in two Laotian provinces. The country has been utterly disorganized by the Indochinese fighting. And the non-Communist Laotian government is just as disorganized as the country it seeks to govern.

The border between Laos and Thailand is very long. It is not effectively patrolled—I went from Nongkhay up the Mekong River to Vietiane in Laos in a border patrol launch, and since we went aground three times, patrolling can hardly be a regular activity.

Communist Stooge

Furthermore, on the Thai side of this border with Laos, there is the northeastern Thai region, already somewhat disaffected because it is drought stricken and poorer than the rest of the country, and containing two ready-made fifth columns. One of these fifth columns is a group of about 45,000 Viet Minh refugees from the French. These people were admitted to Thailand eight years ago by the then Prime Minister Pridi Phanamayong, who is now a Communist stooge in Peiping.

I saw these Vietnamese when I was in the North. The vast majority of them are absolutely controlled by an underground Viet Minh government, with its own Communist headmen, its own police and even Communist courts. The Viet Minh grip is such that even the Catholic Vietnamese around Nongkhay are politically ruled by the Communists, and their priests can do nothing about it but wring their hands. The Thai government is trying, rather vaguely, to repatriate the Viet Minh fifth column to their own country. But in northeast Thailand, you also find the admirers of a magnetic local chieftain, Tieng Sirikhond, who may have as many as three or four hundred thousand followers in these provinces. After being rumored dead, Tieng Sirikhond has turned up with Ho Chi Minh. He is now trying to recruit bold spirits throughout northeast Thailand, for training with the Viet Minh as future infiltrators.

Early Discovery Of Cancer Is Best Bet For Recovery

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Fifty thousand women develop cancer of the breast every year. Finding a "lump" is malignant varies fear, but it is encouraging to know that only one such lesion in 20 years is malignant.

The modern woman has acquired a wholesome attitude toward tumors or thickening of breast tissue. She does something about it, and fast. She realizes there is only one way to find out and consults a physician or clinic where the tumore is removed and sent to the laboratory for further study.

The majority of physicians admit they cannot determine by the usual method of examination whether a nodule is cancerous or benign. Those who make such claims are guessing. The probability that a "lump" in this area is cancerous increases with age. In one series, of women under 40 with tumor, 17 per cent proved to have cancer. The rate rose to 28 per cent in the 40-60 year old group and to 50 per cent in those 60 or older.

Milady also appreciates the wisdom of early diagnosis. Cancer begins in one spot and, when discovered in this stage, is easily destroyed or removed. In this respect, the disease is curable.

The opportunity to get it all out becomes less and less as the growth enlarges and is practically nil after spread occurs throughout the body. Approximately 80 per cent of all who seek help without delay can expect cure. The percentage drops to 35 among those who delay.

Almost 95 per cent of all women who seek advice concerning breast "lump" made the discovery themselves. Self-examination may be the answer and, to popularize the plan, a systematic method has been devised. In this way the chance of missing a tumor is minimized. Furthermore, when the examination is done at regular intervals, the majority of tumors may be detected early enough to bring about cure.

Some authorities believe that self-examination of the breast will make women too cancer conscious. Yet when a tumor is not found, the more mature person will profit from the sense of security provided by knowing that a lesior does not exist.

But this program will fail if the woman procrastinates when a nodule is detected. Every week of delay lessens the likelihood of full recovery. The physician who procrastinates is equally at fault. Whenever there is a reasonable doubt, consultation is strongly advised.

TOMORROW: A resource for the aged.

PART OF INTESTINE

C. W. writes: What is meant by the cecum?

REPLY

This structure is in the first part of the large intestine and it is here that the appendix emerges.

SINUS AND FOODS

K. P. writes: What foods should not be eaten by one with sinus trouble?

REPLY

There are no dietary limitations, despite the propaganda against milk and starches in sinus disease. The only exception occurs when food allergy is a factor. In such instances, the specific irritant should be avoided.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. E. writes: Can tilted uterus be cured by exercise?

REPLY

The knee-chest and other exercises help but if the displacement is marked, surgery may be needed to tighten the over-stretched ligaments.

A DECADE OF NODDING

Mrs. H. writes: My head has been shaking for 10 years, ever since I had to go to work in a factory when my husband went into service. Is there any hope of cure at this time?

REPLY

This question cannot be answered unless the cause of the condition is known. The most common origins of head shaking are palsy and habit.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

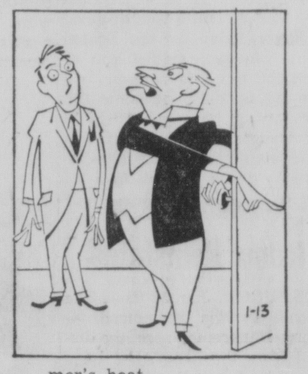

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

For one of their musical plays, P. G. Wodehouse and Guy Bolton wanted Billy B. Van in the comedy lead, but their frugal producer, Colonel Henry Savage, demurred. "Van gets three hundred a week. The part's worth only half that to me. But if you boys are so set on having Van, I tell you what I'll do. Pay half his salary for the first three months and I'll hire him."

Van was a big hit in the role. For three months, Wodehouse and Bolton faithfully ponied up a hundred and fifty simoleons of their own to pay half his salary.

At the end of the third month Colonel Savage fired him.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

January, so far, has been extremely mild in some northern states, mightly rough in other areas. This makes it easier to understand why it was named after Janus, Roman god who was two-faced.

Southeast Asia Can Save Itself

Will Southeast Asia go Communist? If Red China decides to conquer the whole area, there seems to be no military power to stop such a move. But most experts on Asian affairs seem to be convinced that Peiping prefers to try infiltration, propaganda and subversion first.

Favorable as Red China's position seems in many ways, there are also factors operating against the Chinese Communists. The Chinese, as people, are not popular in areas in which they have settled. Nobody wants to be ruled by China. Furthermore, the Reds are at a disadvantage in attempting to exploit poverty in Southeast Asia, a food surplus area whose people enjoy shelter, food, water and warmth to a degree rare in that underprivileged continent.

Quick dollar aid by the U. S. failed to save Nationalist China and Indochina. Weak governments simply cannot make effective use of much dollar aid. It is imperative that Red China be deterred from further aggression, but how? Japanese defense buildup is important. The Seventh Fleet is a mighty deterrent to Peiping's ambitions. Beyond that there is only obscurity.

It would be a mistake to send American farm surpluses to Asia. Southeast Asian countries live by selling foodstuffs. Thailand, for instance, cannot sell all her rice.

Hope of saving Southeast Asia from the Communists lies almost entirely in the hands of the people who live there. The U. S. can help them mightily, but perhaps most by helping to train more Asians to administer their affairs and their governments.

These Days

Who Promoted Peress?

It is perhaps a sound adage to "Let sleeping dogs lie." The Peress case is one which does not seriously involve the now celebrated dentist, but it has affected the careers of many others, and has since last March stirred the country by the quarrel between the Army and Senator McCarthy. It has split the Republican party right down the middle, and has been an embarrassment to everybody who came close to it.

The case of Peress itself is hardly important. There must be many instances in the Army, which processes millions of young men and women, as the phrase goes, in which papers are inadequately or improperly made out and are negligently handled. It was therefore surprising to those who were close to the case that the Army should have made such a fuss over it. The answer to all of Senator McCarthy's questions could have been—"Sorry! Here is another paper snafu. In the handling of millions of papers, there will be a snafu here and there. We shall make whatever corrections are needed and we shall explore our methods to insure that there are fewer errors."

But no such answer was given. As I have been mentioned, too often, in the original Stevens-McCarthy testimony, and as I was present during a conference between them, and had some telephone calls, by his initiation, with John Adams, the Army report issued last Friday comes as no surprise to me. I knew that John Adams had pushed the "honorable discharge" of Major Peress as a solution of the problem. He thought that if Peress was got out of the Army, McCarthy ought to be satisfied.

Unfortunately, the issue was never Peress, just as in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases, the issue should never have been Dr. Klaus Fuchs or Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The issue was, with regard to Peress and should have been in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases—who makes it easy for spies, subversives and such to infiltrate the agencies of government?

This is very unpleasant business and everyone who engages in it burns his fingers, if not more than that. Definitely it looks like persecution. Those who do these jobs look like relentless, fanatical persecutors. Nobody has yet found a method of unearthing spies and subversives pleasantly. The Subcommittee on Rules of the Senate, headed by Senator William Jenner, has held long hearings on the subject of such investigations and has come up with a report on procedural rules which look very good in the report and ought to be adopted, if for no other reason than experimentally to see whether they will achieve the end desired, which is the accumulation of information.

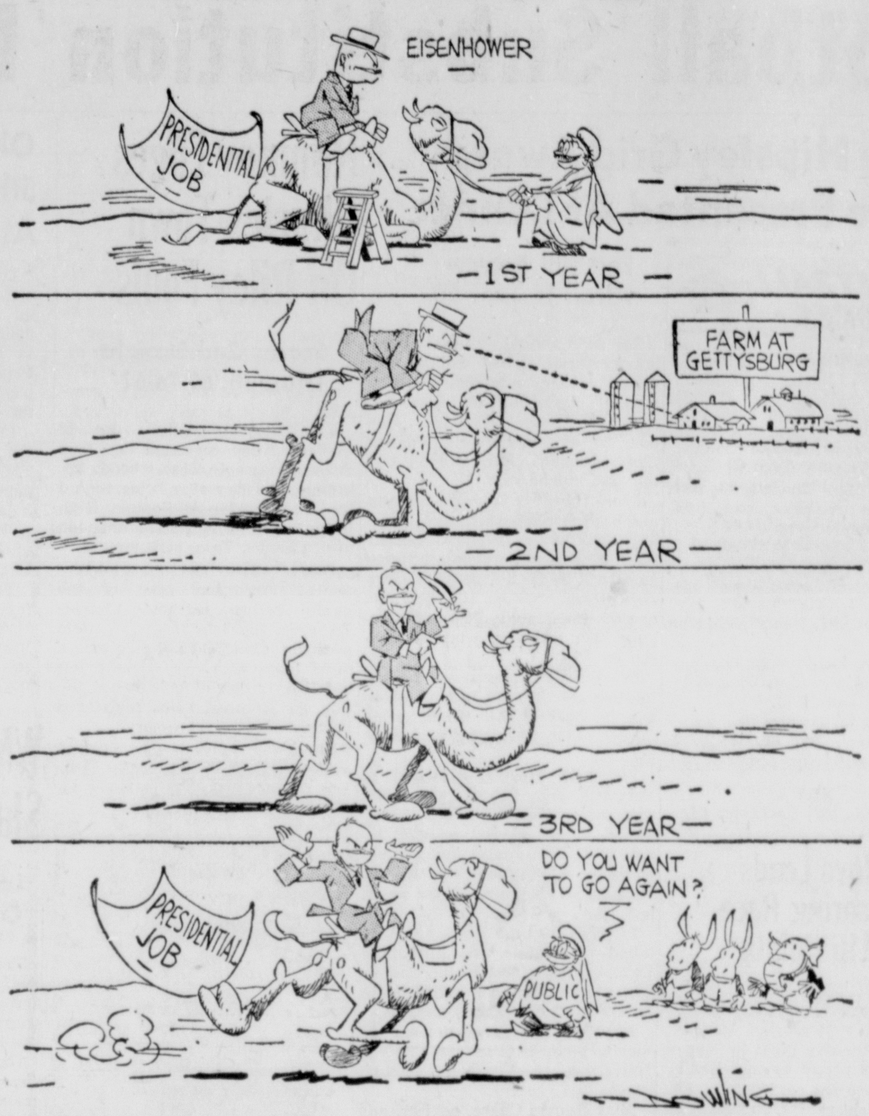

As long as executive departments can withhold valuable and valid information from congressional committees, no rules will help the committees. For instance, had the Army's report on Peress been sent to the Congress last March, when as much was known about the case as is known today, there would have been no disgraceful fracas between the Army and a committee of Congress. Now, it has to start all over again to straighten out the record.

The essence of the problem is psychological, not political. Men do not like to admit errors if they can cover them up. In any large organization, errors will be made and some will be corrected; some are not ever discovered; some may affect the course of history. It is the nature of man to try to cover up his mistakes, to avoid being caught, to hope that if they show up at all, it will be in the hands of a successor. The strong man who can say: "When I make a mistake, it's a beaut," is rare, particularly in official life.

Nevertheless, it needs to be known how the spies, subversives and perverts managed to get into our government operations and to stay there. Catching some little fellow down the line is an individual act that means little or nothing. What needs to be known is the pattern of operations that made it so easy for them to get in and stay in. Maybe no individual is to blame; maybe it is a faulty system of government employment; maybe it is just the normal American attitude of live and let live. Whatever it is, Secretary Stevens of the Army has reopened the door to another series of investigations.

Not So Bad Once You Get Used To It

Handling Of "Security Risks" Hinges On One Question

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The hullabaloo being raised in Congress about the handling of "security risks" boils down to a simple question. Is the safety of the United States government and of the American people of paramount importance or is it to be superseded by legalistic barriers now advocated to spare government employes the hazards of investigation? Is even dismissal by the government as a matter of precaution to be subjected to frustrating devices so that ferreting out of subversives is to be made more difficult?

Too many people think the matter of security is an academic question. Many of them, because they dislike Senator McCarthy, now are flippantly quipping that "McCarthyism is a wasm." But it is turning out to be a grim joke. For "McCarthyism" — which was a word first widely used in the columns of the "Daily Worker," the Communist organ — has apparently not yet sufficiently aroused the government to the necessity of taking better security measures.

Democrats Divided

Thus, in the last few days some tragic exposures have been made but nevertheless the Democratic party in Congress remains divided on how to meet the dangers of Communist infiltration. While one group of Democrats in Congress is asserting vigorously that they will not relax their interest in the subject of ridding the government of Communists, another group is about to launch an investigation to prove that the Eisenhower administration has been too drastic with its dismissals of employes.

In the midst of it all, Representative Keating of New York, Republican, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, has issued the following statement:

"A man by the name of Joseph Petersen, a former code expert in the National Security Agency, has just been sentenced to seven years in prison for espionage. It now has been revealed that the way he was caught was by means of a routine check under the new security program instituted by President Eisenhower.

"Here was a very serious security risk who had been working for the government for years and who would still be on the payroll today, undetected and unapprehended, had this administration not acted promptly and vigorously."

Some Testimony Heard Privately

The court proceedings in the Petersen case were mysteriously fragmentary. Again and again the court announced that certain testimony would be heard privately "in chambers." The documents that were presented in open court were few and, it is known, did not compare in their sensational nature with the many withheld from public record.

Petersen made a confession which, in part, was placed in the record. He said:

"I recall furnishing verbal information from this document to Giaccomo Stuydt, whom I knew to be a Dutch national employed at the Dutch embassy at that time. This information was given to Stuydt at different times and at different places . . .

"I neglected to return this document to Arlington Hall (National Security Agency) because I was emotionally disturbed as I realized the gravity of my actions to my country in illegally furnishing information from a secret United States government document to an unauthorized foreign national."

What happened after the Dutch government got the data? Was it relayed by someone to Moscow?

Petersen carried away documents from 1948 to 1952, and some of them were of such a vital nature that U. S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan, in referring to them said: "Their disclosure could have, and may have for all the court knows, led to very, very serious consequences to the security of the United States."

Peress Case Cited

Members of Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, are showing unhappiness over another episode — the belated Army report on the case of Major Peress, who, according to a comment in the Senate by Senator Daniel of Texas, was a member of the Communist party yet was given an "honorable discharge" after his papers for nearly two years before showed that he had refused to answer a question concerning his Communist connections. Yet Senator McCarthy was vilified and censure recommended by the Watkins Committee because he denounced the general who helped to cover up the case.

Senator Francis Case of South Dakota, Republican, a member of that committee, now says it has been proven that the "Army had weighed the request of a Senate committee chairman against that of a suspected subversive and decided in favor of the latter."

The South Dakota senator, it will be recalled, told the Senate he changed his view when he discovered that the Army had discharged Major Peress after and not before Senator McCarthy's letter seeking a postponement of that step had been received by the Army.

On top of all this there's a "left wing" drive on to surround government employes with complex procedural devices which would supersede the rights of the American government to protect its own safety.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

John Foster Dulles is the man of 1954 for taking the high hat out of international diplomacy.

A diplomat is a fellow who plays both ends against the middle like a boy eating a frankfurter.

At the start Foster was pushed around like an actor's trunk.

He flew in more directions than a dropped egg.

Then he got a toe-hold on a parallel and did a blondin on a dotted line.

We figured Foster's head was in the clouds and we were right. He came down only to refuel and sign treaties.

He put over the Manila pact in Asia, the all-Havana filler in the Caribbean and the Formosa-for-Formosans formula with Chiang Kai-shek. If you stay on an island 30 days it belongs to you.

Then the fur began to fly. About this time Christmas mink always does.

Foster persuaded Mohammicker-Dingbat to loosen the Commie torniquet on Iranian oil for the lumps of China. He ironed out the Trieste hasslement with a dash of savoir faire hatched of long experience. He persuaded Syngman Rhee that half-a-peninsula was better than none. He was the third man in the Suez ring and now England has no canals to worry about except on the Manchester-Liverpool axis.

Scandal-Purged Bureau Of Internal Revenue Involved In More Politics

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Some interesting things are going on inside the Internal Revenue Bureau which may merit another congressional probe of how the nation's taxes are collected.

The closing days of the Truman administration were highlighted by serious tax scandals—first revealed in this column—which led to the resignations of Commissioner George Schoeneman and Counselor Charles Oliphant; plus the prosecution of an earlier commissioner and assitant—Joe Nunan and Dan Bolich.

These tax scandals supplied Republican campaigners with some of their potent political ammunition, and it was presumed that when they took over Internal Revenue, it would be run with Old Dutch Cleanser spotlessness.

However, politics seems to have crept back into the tax-collecting agency.

This column has already reported how Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, after entertaining Senator McCarthy in his home in Richmond, Va., and introducing him to a local audience as one of "our greatest living Americans," assigned a run-of-the-mine agent to the job of scrutinizing McCarthy's tax returns. McCarthy has had to pay extra taxes to the State of Wisconsin. The Senate Investigating Committee also found him using money received to fight communism to speculate on the soybean market. But Commissioner Andrews has taken no public action.

On top of this, here is the latest political development inside the agency which is supposed to collect taxes impartially.

Nation's No. 1 Heel

When T. Coleman Andrews took over tax collecting, one of the hottest fraud cases he inherited involved a top Republican leader in West Virginia, R. J. Funkhouser, manufacturer of O'Sullivan heels, sometimes referred to as "America's No. 1 Heel." John Dunlap, career agent whom President Truman appointed commissioner to clean up Internal Revenue, not only was preparing a fraud case against Funkhouser but was checking transfers of funds to South America because of rumors Funkhouser planned to leave the USA.

Today, however, the tax case against the O'Sullivan heel manufacturer has been virtually put on the shelf. The agent who was handling it was called off and promoted. While he was off the case, Commissioner Andrews' office settled fraud cases against three of Funkhouser's top executives implicated in making kickbacks to him.

In Lee's case, H. O. Bryant, review officer of the Internal Revenue Criminal Section, had previously ruled that no fraud was involved, and a civil adjustment was made. Lee had been charged with taking a capital-gains tax on the sale of undeveloped real estate instead of paying a straight income tax during the years 1947, '48 and '49.

Bryant ruled in 1952 that "there remained no question of fraud or concealed income," and the case was considered closed. Now it has been reopened, and the Justice Department is pushing for a criminal indictment.

Padded Expenses

In contrast, here are some of the facts in the case of GOP leader Funkhouser which has now been put on the shelf.

Tax agents found that for 11 years Funkhouser required one of his executives, Henry Jennings, to pad his expense account $300 a month, and then pay that amount over to him. During this period, Funkhouser got $39,600 as a nice little windfall.

In order to pay Funkhouser his kickback without running in the red himself, Jenning charged up fictitious mileage at seven cents a mile for trips he had never taken.

When Internal Revenue agents began checking Funkhouser's tax returns, they got statements from three of his executives regarding secret payments to him. Two had padded their expenses in order to kick back. A third had been paying him in the guise of a fictitious loan.

One of the three, Henry Jennings, told Funkhouser that he had given the tax agents a statement and was promptly fired.

Reached at his box factory near Charles Town, W. Va., Jennings admitted padding his expense accounts for Funkhouser to the tune of $300 a month and sending him the money by personal check. He estimated the total amount he had paid Funkhouser to be around $35,000, though Internal Revenue figures it at $39,600.

Jennings has now purchased a box factory from Hal Vosa, a Funkhouser functionary, for $68,000; also has a contract from Funkhouser to make boxes for him. As a result, he was loath to talk, said Funkhouser would retaliate by taking away his contract. However, when confronted with the facts, Jennings admitted they were correct.

Despite this, the tax case prepared against Funkhouser under Commissioner John Dunlap, career man, has now been virtually put on the shelf by Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, political appointee.

Giggles In Bangkok

By Joseph Alsop

BANGKOK, Thailand

In Bangkok, where they like to laugh, the current joke in the more literate circles is the cover of an American news magazine, showing a handsome portrait of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with the legend, "He strengthened the outposts."

For Thailand is the richest prize in all the vast, rich southeast Asian area which is now the primary target of world Communist infiltration and aggression. And the outposts hereabouts have not been noticeably strengthened.

Despite the contrary advice of Secretary Dulles, one key outpost, northern Indochina, has already been surrendered. The enemy has been virtually handed the keys to two more outposts, southern Indochina and the offshore islands of Formosa.

The sacrifice of the other Indochina outposts has placed the weak but strategically vital border states, Laos and Cambodia in most deadly danger. If both Laos and Cambodia are allowed to fall, no one in his senses here thinks this charming, feckless, oddly governed country will be able to withstand the resulting increase of Communist pressure. And so the chain reaction will proceed with mounting force.

At Home It's Remote

At home, perhaps, the prospect of this vast upheaval in the world balance of power may still seem comfortably remote, It does not seem so here, for several different reasons.

The first is the simple reason of geography. Back in the bad old imperialist days, when the French seized Thailand's border provinces to form Laos and enlarge Cambodia, they drew the new frontier with the purpose of preparing their next planned move, which was to have been a grab for Bangkok itself. Thus any force concentrated at Sisophon on the Cambodian border, looks right down the throat of any government in Bangkok. It is only 168 miles, and easy walking or driving distance all the way, with no natural defense positions anywhere, between Sisophon and this city.

When the time of more acute danger may probably begin, a couple of years from now, the army of the Viet Minh will comprise somewhere between 15 and 20 tough regular divisions. The present Thai forces, which are not likely to be effectively increased, comprise an army of about 50,000 combat troops and approximately 15,000 paramilitary police. Hence the unbalance will be overwhelming.

Mere Threat Dangerous

Consequently no allied SEATO or other force could arrive in time to save Bangkok from a determined Viet Minh attack from Sisophon. A relieving force would only "liberate" Thailand after it had been subjugated, pillaged and purged. This being a prospect which few Thais enjoy, the mere appearance of an enemy force at Sisophon, the mere threat to invade, might well bring Thailand down as Joshua's trumpets brought down the Walls of Jericho.

"Massive retaliation" will be complicated to employ in these circumstances. It is much wiser to stop talking about massive retaliation, and to face the hard fact that if Cambodia falls, it is almost sure to be fatal to Thailand, one way or another.

As for the loss of Laos, it will be enormously dangerous but it may not be fatal. And it is just as well that there is this much difference between Laos and Cambodia; for whereas Cambodia is virtually free of Viet Minh infiltration, the Viet Minh stooges, the "Free Laos" are strongly established in two Laotian provinces. The country has been utterly disorganized by the Indochinese fighting. And the non-Communist Laotian government is just as disorganized as the country it seeks to govern.

The border between Laos and Thailand is very long. It is not effectively patrolled—I went from Nongkhay up the Mekong River to Vietiane in Laos in a border patrol launch, and since we went aground three times, patrolling can hardly be a regular activity.

Communist Stooge

Furthermore, on the Thai side of this border with Laos, there is the northeastern Thai region, already somewhat disaffected because it is drought stricken and poorer than the rest of the country, and containing two ready-made fifth columns. One of these fifth columns is a group of about 45,000 Viet Minh refugees from the French. These people were admitted to Thailand eight years ago by the then Prime Minister Pridi Phanamayong, who is now a Communist stooge in Peiping.

I saw these Vietnamese when I was in the North. The vast majority of them are absolutely controlled by an underground Viet Minh government, with its own Communist headmen, its own police and even Communist courts. The Viet Minh grip is such that even the Catholic Vietnamese around Nongkhay are politically ruled by the Communists, and their priests can do nothing about it but wring their hands. The Thai government is trying, rather vaguely, to repatriate the Viet Minh fifth column to their own country. But in northeast Thailand, you also find the admirers of a magnetic local chieftain, Tieng Sirikhond, who may have as many as three or four hundred thousand followers in these provinces. After being rumored dead, Tieng Sirikhond has turned up with Ho Chi Minh. He is now trying to recruit bold spirits throughout northeast Thailand, for training with the Viet Minh as future infiltrators.

Early Discovery Of Cancer Is Best Bet For Recovery

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Fifty thousand women develop cancer of the breast every year. Finding a "lump" is malignant varies fear, but it is encouraging to know that only one such lesion in 20 years is malignant.

The modern woman has acquired a wholesome attitude toward tumors or thickening of breast tissue. She does something about it, and fast. She realizes there is only one way to find out and consults a physician or clinic where the tumore is removed and sent to the laboratory for further study.

The majority of physicians admit they cannot determine by the usual method of examination whether a nodule is cancerous or benign. Those who make such claims are guessing. The probability that a "lump" in this area is cancerous increases with age. In one series, of women under 40 with tumor, 17 per cent proved to have cancer. The rate rose to 28 per cent in the 40-60 year old group and to 50 per cent in those 60 or older.

Milady also appreciates the wisdom of early diagnosis. Cancer begins in one spot and, when discovered in this stage, is easily destroyed or removed. In this respect, the disease is curable.

The opportunity to get it all out becomes less and less as the growth enlarges and is practically nil after spread occurs throughout the body. Approximately 80 per cent of all who seek help without delay can expect cure. The percentage drops to 35 among those who delay.

Almost 95 per cent of all women who seek advice concerning breast "lump" made the discovery themselves. Self-examination may be the answer and, to popularize the plan, a systematic method has been devised. In this way the chance of missing a tumor is minimized. Furthermore, when the examination is done at regular intervals, the majority of tumors may be detected early enough to bring about cure.

Some authorities believe that self-examination of the breast will make women too cancer conscious. Yet when a tumor is not found, the more mature person will profit from the sense of security provided by knowing that a lesior does not exist.

But this program will fail if the woman procrastinates when a nodule is detected. Every week of delay lessens the likelihood of full recovery. The physician who procrastinates is equally at fault. Whenever there is a reasonable doubt, consultation is strongly advised.

PART OF INTESTINE

C. W. writes: What is meant by the cecum?

REPLY

This structure is in the first part of the large intestine and it is here that the appendix emerges.

SINUS AND FOODS

K. P. writes: What foods should not be eaten by one with sinus trouble?

REPLY

There are no dietary limitations, despite the propaganda against milk and starches in sinus disease. The only exception occurs when food allergy is a factor. In such instances, the specific irritant should be avoided.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. E. writes: Can tilted uterus be cured by exercise?

REPLY

The knee-chest and other exercises help but if the displacement is marked, surgery may be needed to tighten the over-stretched ligaments.

A DECADE OF NODDING

Mrs. H. writes: My head has been shaking for 10 years, ever since I had to go to work in a factory when my husband went into service. Is there any hope of cure at this time?

REPLY

This question cannot be answered unless the cause of the condition is known. The most common origins of head shaking are palsy and habit.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

For one of their musical plays, P. G. Wodehouse and Guy Bolton wanted Billy B. Van in the comedy lead, but their frugal producer, Colonel Henry Savage, demurred. "Van gets three hundred a week. The part's worth only half that to me. But if you boys are so set on having Van, I tell you what I'll do. Pay half his salary for the first three months and I'll hire him."

Van was a big hit in the role. For three months, Wodehouse and Bolton faithfully ponied up a hundred and fifty simoleons of their own to pay half his salary.

At the end of the third month Colonel Savage fired him.

NCAA Group Eases Football Substitution Rule Slightly

Four-Minute Segment Each Half Dropped

Five Other Changes Made By Committee; Criticize False Starts

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP) — The NCAA football rules committee today eased up a trifle on the "anti-platoon" substitution rule and made five other changes in the rules for 1955.

In addition it strongly urged coaches and officials to observe and enforce two rules now in the book with an implied threat of drastic action if "false start" violations aren't eliminated.

Accepting the recommendation of the Football Coaches Association, the committee eliminated the controversial four-minute segment at the end of each half and ruled that the players who start each quarter of a game will be eligible to leave and re-enter once during that quarter.those who don't participate in the opening down of a period can't re-enter in the same period.

Step In Other Direction

Although this is a step in the other direction from the change of two years ago that outlawed two-platoon football, the committee and coaches had no inclination to return to platoon football. The idea was to do away with the four-minute segment, which some coaches felt made a football a six-period game, and to give coaches and doctors a chance to examine slightly injured players without losing them for an entire quarter.

The change also makes possible limited use of some specialists. For instance a player can come in once to kick a conversion and the one for whom he substituted can return, but it can't happen twice in one quarter.

The other changes passed today were:

1. A player who kneels to hold the ball for a place kick now can rise and run, pass or kick. This is an exception to the rule which makes the ball dead once the carrier touches the ground with any part of his body but the hands or feet.

Pass Play Is Legal

2. The "tackle eligible" forward pass play is legal only if no other offensive player is stationed outside the end man when the ball is snapped. A tackle, guard or center becomes an eligible pass receiver if he is the end man on the scrimmage line. The additional provision eliminates borderline deception when an end, stationed far out, would drop back a yard to make the next man eligible.

3. The "hideout" play was outlawed by a provision that when the ball is spotted and declared ready for play, all offensive players must be within 15 yards of the ball. Afterward they can go where they please. The previous "no hideout" rule applied only when substitutes were coming in or out of the game.

4. The fair catch signal was changed to eliminate the wig-wag, which the committee felt was too difficult to perform while catching the ball. The signal now is just raising one hand clearly above the head.

5. The use of shoe cleats with rounded bottoms was authorized.

On the "false start" and "sucker shift," which occupied about one third of the time during the 2½ day meeting, the decision was to leave the rules alone. Instead, a new and stronger appeal will be made to adhere to the present rule in spirit and letter. Meanwhile a special committee will make a complete and exhaustive study of the problem.

Calvary Gains Tie For Third In SS Circuit

Beats Maccabees; Livingstone Wins

Calvary Methodist cagers edged into a three-way tie for third place in the YMCA Sunday School Basketball League yesterday by walloping the Maccabees, 53-5, on the "Y" court.

The triumph was the 12th of the campaign for the Ridgeley quint coached by Paul Fisher. The West Virginians have dropped two games. The loss was the ninth in 15 league starts for the Maccabees.

Calvary blanked the losers in the first period and held them to one field goal in the first half. Jim and Jack Kauffman tallied the only two fielders made by Maccabees.

Don Eckard with 15 markers and David Baker with 14 paced the Calvary five.

In another loop engagement on the "Y" boards yesterday Coach Jim Roby's Livingstone cagers won their second game by turning back Centenary, 38-13.

David Durst had 14 points and Harold Counihan had 12 to top the 19-goal Livingstone attack. The setback was the 12th for Centenary. The lineups:

Saddler Agrees To Defend Title Against Davis

First Featherweight Defense In 3 Years

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—After over three years, including a two-year hitch in the Army, Sandy Saddler finally has agreed to defend his world featherweight title, Friday, Feb. 25 at Madison Square Garden against Teddy (Red Top) Davis, the No. 1 contender from Hartford, Conn.

Stripped of recognition in National Boxing Association states because he refused to heed the NBA's Dec. 14 deadline, the 28-year-old champion will be engaging someone other than Willie Pep in a title fight for the first time.

The rangy New York Negro won the title from Willie, Oct. 29, 1948, lost it back to Pep the next year and won it again, Sept. 8, 1950 when Pep "retired" because of a shoulder injury. He stopped Pep again, Sept. 26, 1951, his last defense.

The actual contracts have not been signed but the International Boxing Club announced the match on a verbal agreement between Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager, promoter Jim Norris and Mushky Salow, Davis' manager.

"We're all set on terms," said Johnston. "Only a few details of the television deal remains to be worked out. I'm getting 40 per cent, that's all I know."

The IBC and Salow did not disclose other financial arrangements but Saddler obviously was going to get most of the money for giving Davis a chance at the crown.

Davis, a poker faced 31-year-old veteran who once was managed by Pep, moved into the No. 1 challenger position by outpointing Percy Bassett, Nov. 26, 1954 in a 12-round elimination bout at the Garden. Probably the "losingest" fighter to get a title shot, Davis has a record of 58-47-2 for 107 pro bouts dating back to 1946. However, he was unbeaten last year in six starts.

Saddler has a brilliant record since he came out of the amateurs in 1944, winning 137, losing 12 and drawing twice in 151 bouts.

NCAA Group Eases Football Substitution Rule Slightly

Four-Minute Segment Each Half Dropped

Five Other Changes Made By Committee; Criticize False Starts

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP) — The NCAA football rules committee today eased up a trifle on the "anti-platoon" substitution rule and made five other changes in the rules for 1955.

In addition it strongly urged coaches and officials to observe and enforce two rules now in the book with an implied threat of drastic action if "false start" violations aren't eliminated.

Accepting the recommendation of the Football Coaches Association, the committee eliminated the controversial four-minute segment at the end of each half and ruled that the players who start each quarter of a game will be eligible to leave and re-enter once during that quarter.those who don't participate in the opening down of a period can't re-enter in the same period.

Step In Other Direction

Although this is a step in the other direction from the change of two years ago that outlawed two-platoon football, the committee and coaches had no inclination to return to platoon football. The idea was to do away with the four-minute segment, which some coaches felt made a football a six-period game, and to give coaches and doctors a chance to examine slightly injured players without losing them for an entire quarter.

The change also makes possible limited use of some specialists. For instance a player can come in once to kick a conversion and the one for whom he substituted can return, but it can't happen twice in one quarter.

The other changes passed today were:

1. A player who kneels to hold the ball for a place kick now can rise and run, pass or kick. This is an exception to the rule which makes the ball dead once the carrier touches the ground with any part of his body but the hands or feet.

Pass Play Is Legal

2. The "tackle eligible" forward pass play is legal only if no other offensive player is stationed outside the end man when the ball is snapped. A tackle, guard or center becomes an eligible pass receiver if he is the end man on the scrimmage line. The additional provision eliminates borderline deception when an end, stationed far out, would drop back a yard to make the next man eligible.

3. The "hideout" play was outlawed by a provision that when the ball is spotted and declared ready for play, all offensive players must be within 15 yards of the ball. Afterward they can go where they please. The previous "no hideout" rule applied only when substitutes were coming in or out of the game.

4. The fair catch signal was changed to eliminate the wig-wag, which the committee felt was too difficult to perform while catching the ball. The signal now is just raising one hand clearly above the head.

5. The use of shoe cleats with rounded bottoms was authorized.

On the "false start" and "sucker shift," which occupied about one third of the time during the 2½ day meeting, the decision was to leave the rules alone. Instead, a new and stronger appeal will be made to adhere to the present rule in spirit and letter. Meanwhile a special committee will make a complete and exhaustive study of the problem.

Calvary Gains Tie For Third In SS Circuit

Beats Maccabees; Livingstone Wins

Calvary Methodist cagers edged into a three-way tie for third place in the YMCA Sunday School Basketball League yesterday by walloping the Maccabees, 53-5, on the "Y" court.

The triumph was the 12th of the campaign for the Ridgeley quint coached by Paul Fisher. The West Virginians have dropped two games. The loss was the ninth in 15 league starts for the Maccabees.

Calvary blanked the losers in the first period and held them to one field goal in the first half. Jim and Jack Kauffman tallied the only two fielders made by Maccabees.

Don Eckard with 15 markers and David Baker with 14 paced the Calvary five.

In another loop engagement on the "Y" boards yesterday Coach Jim Roby's Livingstone cagers won their second game by turning back Centenary, 38-13.

David Durst had 14 points and Harold Counihan had 12 to top the 19-goal Livingstone attack. The setback was the 12th for Centenary. The lineups:

Saddler Agrees To Defend Title Against Davis

First Featherweight Defense In 3 Years

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—After over three years, including a two-year hitch in the Army, Sandy Saddler finally has agreed to defend his world featherweight title, Friday, Feb. 25 at Madison Square Garden against Teddy (Red Top) Davis, the No. 1 contender from Hartford, Conn.

Stripped of recognition in National Boxing Association states because he refused to heed the NBA's Dec. 14 deadline, the 28-year-old champion will be engaging someone other than Willie Pep in a title fight for the first time.

The rangy New York Negro won the title from Willie, Oct. 29, 1948, lost it back to Pep the next year and won it again, Sept. 8, 1950 when Pep "retired" because of a shoulder injury. He stopped Pep again, Sept. 26, 1951, his last defense.

The actual contracts have not been signed but the International Boxing Club announced the match on a verbal agreement between Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager, promoter Jim Norris and Mushky Salow, Davis' manager.

"We're all set on terms," said Johnston. "Only a few details of the television deal remains to be worked out. I'm getting 40 per cent, that's all I know."

The IBC and Salow did not disclose other financial arrangements but Saddler obviously was going to get most of the money for giving Davis a chance at the crown.

Davis, a poker faced 31-year-old veteran who once was managed by Pep, moved into the No. 1 challenger position by outpointing Percy Bassett, Nov. 26, 1954 in a 12-round elimination bout at the Garden. Probably the "losingest" fighter to get a title shot, Davis has a record of 58-47-2 for 107 pro bouts dating back to 1946. However, he was unbeaten last year in six starts.

Saddler has a brilliant record since he came out of the amateurs in 1944, winning 137, losing 12 and drawing twice in 151 bouts.

Burns received this information from Don Jenkins, regional representative for the March of Dimes campaigns in this area. Approximately 500 children in the county will be able to receive the desperately sought polio preventative. Burns also stated that the polio vaccine would be on the commercial market this year and that children in other grades would be able to secure the vaccine through family physicians. The polio preventative vaccine will be given free to the Second Graders. This expensive program is financed from funds received in the March of Dimes campaign, Burns noted.

Burns also announced the appointment of committees to serve with him in the current March of Dimes campaign.

Firemen Avert Serious Blaze At Mt. Savage

MT. SAVAGE — Volunteer firemen from four companies were successful yesterday in keeping fire of a burning home from spreading to other dwellings in a thickly settled section of Mt. Savage.

The five-room home of Hugh McKenzie was gutted by flames which were discovered at 6:45 a. m.

The home is located on Foundry Row, a narrow street having many frame houses built close to each other.

Kept Inside Walls

If allowed to go unchecked, under certain weather conditions, a serious situation could have developed, firemen reported. However, the fire was kept within the walls of the McKenzie house.

All of the possessions and furniture of McKenzie and his son, Eric, 16, who resided with him, were lost with the exception of kitchen equipment.

At the scene were the Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Corriganville and LaVale fire companies. The Mt. Savage firemen had the blaze pretty much under control by the time help arrived, firemen reported.

No one was in the dwelling when the fire was discovered by neighbors. McKenzie had just left the house about a half-hour previous to the discovery, while his son had been staying all night at the home of an aunt.

Cause Not Determined

While the cause of the fire has not been exactly determined, Mt. Savage firemen were of the immediate opinion that it resulted from an overheated furnace and flue.

The roof was burned through in the vicinity of the flue, they said. The only room escaping total destruction was the kitchen which is located on the upper side of the dwelling.

The McKenzie home is located only a few feet from houses on either side, while the houses across Foundry Row are only the distance of the narrow street. Had flames not been confined, a number of homes could have been damaged, the firemen added.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Sgt. Carl E. Royce, who was killed in action in Belgium, 10 years ago, January 13, 1945.

Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many tears,
God knows how much we miss him,
At the end of ten long years.

Sadly missed by
His Parents, Sister & Niece

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Sgt. Carl E. Royce, who was killed in action in Belgium, 10 years ago, January 13, 1945.

Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many tears,
God knows how much we miss him,
At the end of ten long years.

Sadly missed by

TELLS HOW TO BEAT HIM

FRANTIC efforts by one opponent, to impede your side's bidding of powerful holdings, can sometimes locate the main power of your adversaries as being in his partner's hand. When that is the case, you may be able without fear to execute the fanciest kind of play whose success depends on finding a certain card or cards in a particular location.

	♠ A K 3 ♥ Q 4 ♦ K Q 9 8 6 ♣ J 5 3
♠ Q J 10 6 5 4 2 ♥ 9 3 2 ♦ 10 3 ♣ 8	N W E S	♠ 9 ♥ J 10 6 ♦ J 7 5 4 2 ♣ K 10 9 2

6 ♥	Pass	7 NT

West knew South as a player who would not make a single-jump response like the 2-Hearts, when 1-Heart would have been a single-round force, except with tremendous strength. So he went all out to crowd his powerful opponents when he bid 3-Spades. Following North's double of that, South kept right on, via Blackwood convention bids, the responses showing North's one ace and two kings.

After West led the spade Q, South decided to count East as having all of the length in the necessary places, the minor suits, also to hold the club K, as with that card West might not have been so impelled to butt in with his obstructing bid. South therefore built a plan which depended on a successful club finesse plus a squeeze, both against East.

So the succeeding trick winners were the spade A, heart Q, A, K, 8 and 7, diamond A and then the spade 8 to the K. That early, the eighth trick, East was squeezed, having to discard from three cards in each minor. Seeing he had to hold the diamond J-7-5 to keep the 9 from becoming a winner, he shed the club 9 from the K-10-9. Then the diamond K and Q won, followed by the club J lead, which East covered with the K, the A winning. The club Q then dropped the 10 and made the 7 winner of the last trick.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

TELLS HOW TO BEAT HIM

FRANTIC efforts by one opponent, to impede your side's bidding of powerful holdings, can sometimes locate the main power of your adversaries as being in his partner's hand. When that is the case, you may be able without fear to execute the fanciest kind of play whose success depends on finding a certain card or cards in a particular location.

	♠ A K 3 ♥ Q 4 ♦ K Q 9 8 6 ♣ J 5 3
♠ Q J 10 6 5 4 2 ♥ 9 3 2 ♦ 10 3 ♣ 8	N W E S	♠ 9 ♥ J 10 6 ♦ J 7 5 4 2 ♣ K 10 9 2

West knew South as a player who would not make a single-jump response like the 2-Hearts, when 1-Heart would have been a single-round force, except with tremendous strength. So he went all out to crowd his powerful opponents when he bid 3-Spades. Following North's double of that, South kept right on, via Blackwood convention bids, the responses showing North's one ace and two kings.

After West led the spade Q, South decided to count East as having all of the length in the necessary places, the minor suits, also to hold the club K, as with that card West might not have been so impelled to butt in with his obstructing bid. South therefore built a plan which depended on a successful club finesse plus a squeeze, both against East.

So the succeeding trick winners were the spade A, heart Q, A, K, 8 and 7, diamond A and then the spade 8 to the K. That early, the eighth trick, East was squeezed, having to discard from three cards in each minor. Seeing he had to hold the diamond J-7-5 to keep the 9 from becoming a winner, he shed the club 9 from the K-10-9. Then the diamond K and Q won, followed by the club J lead, which East covered with the K, the A winning. The club Q then dropped the 10 and made the 7 winner of the last trick.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A 7 3 ♥ A 9 8 6 4 ♦ 10 4 3 ♣ 8 3

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

If the normally expected complex bidding develops on this deal, how should it guide East to selection of the best lead against North's 6-No Trumps?

Airport Body Favors Renewal Of Contract

Mullenax Bid Gets Recommendation

The Municipal Airport Commission last night unanimously recommended that Warren R. Mullenax again be awarded the contract to operate the airport for a two-year period starting March 1 with an option to renew the contract for another two years, according to G. Wyatt Brennaman, commission secretary.

The commission's recommendation, adopted at a meeting attended by all seven members in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves, now goes to the Mayor and City Council for final action.

Mullenax, who is now winding up his fifth year as operator of the airport, submitted an offer calling upon him to pay the city $2,040 plus five per cent of the gross business above $15,000 and 10 per cent of the business over $25,000.

The 10 per cent provision is subject to renegotiation at the end of one year. If at that time it is found that most of the business above $25,000 is gasoline, the contract will be amended effective March 1, to make payment seven-and-one-half per cent for business over $25,000.

Two other bids were considered by the commission last night. Thomas G. Barton of Rawlings and Albert V. Thrush of Burlington, W. Va., submitted a proposal whereby they would pay the city $1,800 plus five per cent of the gross business above $10,000 and at the end of the second year 10 per cent for all above $25,000. The contract also would have been for two years with the option of a two-year renewal.

Walter D. Burd, 811 Mt. Royal Avenue, submitted the other offer. He would pay the city $2,160 plus five per cent of the gross business above $15,000 and would have the option of renewal for two years after a two-year contract.

Mullenax will continue to offer charter service, repair and maintenance service and will live at the airport.

Grade School Girls To Join In Play Program

An after-school recreation program for fifth and sixth grade girls in city public schools will begin next Monday, according to Recreation Director Robert E. Pence.

Mrs. Eva Hogan of the Recreation Department staff will supervise the program which will run for eight weeks. There will be a program in each school from 3:30 until 4:30 p. m. one day each week.

A varied program is being arranged, Mrs. Hogan said. It will include such active games as black blues blank. There also will be quiz games such as "know your alphabet," advertising slogans. Simple dramatics will be offered in a program called "Acted Out." Also planned are quiet games and musical games such as musical chairs.

Before starting this program Pence and Mrs. Hogan visited each school to explain the plans. For the fifth and sixth grade boys Pence will direct basketball programs at Fort Hill and Allegany High School each Saturday from 10 until 11:30 a. m.

Mrs. Hogan also announced the names of seven leaders who will direct the program in various schools. Mrs. Maxine Zherbaugh will be in charge at East Side School each Wednesday from 3:30 until 4:30 p. m. Mrs. Charles Eyler will be in charge both at Centre Street and at Gephart, where the program will be operated on Mondays.

Mrs. Howard Fisher will be the John Humbird School leader each Friday. Mrs. Robert Shoemaker will be in charge at Johnson Heights each Tuesday. Mrs. Doreen Frey will supervise the Mt. Royal program every Wednesday for eight weeks. Mrs. Connie Davis will be the leader of Virginia Avenue. Mrs. Jeanetta Beckward will be in charge at Carver School every Monday. Mrs. Hogan will herself direct the West Side activity Wednesday.

A leaders' training program is scheduled at the City Hall at 2 p. m. today.

Bean Renamed President Of W. Va. Senate

Flannery Gets 4th Term As Speaker

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 12 (AP)—The West Virginia Legislature organized today under the same leadership it had at the last session two years ago, then adjourned until next Monday.

Re-elected were Sen. Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) for a second term as Senate president and Del. W. E. Flannery (D-Logan) for a fourth term, unprecedented in West Virginia history, as speaker of the House.

Their election at the opening session of the 60-day, 52d Legislature was merely a formality that gave official status to choices made in secret caucuses of the Democratic majorities the night before.

Introduced in both houses and promptly referred to the Finance committees were identical budget bills submitted by the Board of Public Works. The bills propose general revenue fund spending during the next fiscal year which totals $91,634,000, or $6,733,000 more than the board estimates the fund will take in from present sources.

Flannery, in an address after his election as speaker, said the deficit budget confronts the lawmakers with this choice: "Either we must find additional revenues or we must cut the items of the budget accordingly. The budget must be balanced."

The defeated candidates of the Republican minority for Senate president and house speaker-Sen. Dayton R. Stemple (R-Barbour and Del. Cecil Underwood (R-Tyler) -become the minority leaders of the two chambers. It will be Stemple's third session in that post and Underwood's fourth.

Re-election of Bean and Flannery means the majority leaderships will go to the same men who held the posts in 1953-Sen. John J. Amos (D-Kanawha) and Del. Martin C. Bowles (D-Kanawha).

Amcelle Employe Receives Watch

Sensoney E. Powell, Cresaptown, was presented a gold wrist watch Tuesday at Amcelle as a remembrance of 25 years of service. Walter N. Hedrick, assistant to the plant manager, made the presentation.

He is married and has two daughters, one son and one granddaughter.

During World War I, for over 18 months he was a mechanic in the Air Corps.

His activities include working in his hobby and woodworking shop, gardening and membership in the American Legion.

W. D. Claus, plant engineer, joined in honoring Powell by awarding him the traditional gold five-star Celanese service emblem and certificate.

Florida Family Hospitalized In Auto Accident

Woman Is Pinned Under Wreckage

Three members of a Florida family were admitted to Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital yesterday evening with injuries sustained when the car in which they were traveling skidded on an icy section of Route 40 west of Grantsville and upset.

In fair condition at the hospital are:

John C. Garrett Jr., 22, of St. Petersburg, Fla., driver of the car, who sustained laceration of the head, face and neck and possible knee fracture.

Mrs. Joycellon Garrett, 23, his wife, who suffered a possible fractured back.

Their 10-month-old daughter, Debra Linn Garrett, who sustained a severe laceration of the face.

Attaches last night said X-rays will be taken to learn the extent of their injuries. Mrs. Garrett, according to State Police, was pinned under the wreckage and her daughter was thrown to the highway by the impact.

The auto had to be jacked up before Mrs. Garrett could be extricated and placed in an ambulance from Grantsville. Cpl. Sam Conrad, who was patrolling in the vicinity of the accident, went to the scene. He said the family was traveling west on Route 40 about six miles west of Grantsville when the accident occurred.

Cpl. Conrad said that as the car hit the icy section, it skidded out of control across the highway, hit a guard rail and upset.

The mishap occurred about 4 p. m.

Flue Fire Checked

East Side firemen checked a flue fire yesterday morning at 302 Independence Street. No damage was reported. The alarm was answered at 8:02 a.m.

Aftermath Of Area Blaze

The above scene is the aftermath of a fire which early yesterday morning gutted the five-room home of Hugh McKenzie on Foundry Row, Mt. Savage. Firemen from Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Corriganville and LaVale kept the flames from spreading to other residences in the thickly settled section of the community. The fire resulted apparently from an overheated furnace and flue. No one was in the dwelling when the fire was discovered about 6:45 a. m. by neighbors. (Story on page 14)

Valley Road Man Sues For $50,000

One Valley Road man sued another for $50,000 in a damage suit filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

James F. Shanholtz, RFD 3, Valley Road, through Attorneys Thomas B. Finan and William C. Walsh, filed the $50,000 action against Floyd Berkey, also of RFD 3, Valley Road.

The plaintiff explained in his declaration that he was a passenger in an automobile owned and driven by Berkey, which crashed about two miles north of Cumberland while traveling south on Valley Road. The accident occurred last July 25.

Shanholtz said that Berkey lost control of his car, which traveled off the right side of the road, careened to the opposite side, struck a ditch, careened back to the right side, where it smashed into a dwelling house.

The plaintiff charged that he sustained a broken vertebra in his neck, and cuts on his head and face. He has been permanently injured and handicapped in his work, Shanholtz concluded.

Bridge Approach Plans Discussed By Officials

Bids Are Likely Around March 15

City officials yesterday discussed with a representative of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads details concerning the development of the Cumberland approach to the new Potomac River bridge leading to Ridgeley.

Attending the session were Streets Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Harry L. Hill, a highway field engineer for the Bureau of Public Roads with headquarters in Baltimore.

The final plans call for the widening of Greene Street, from the curve at the remnants of Riverside Park to the point where it intersects Washington Street, to a minimum width of 32 feet so that it can readily carry three lanes of traffic. Several feet will have to be eliminated from the sidewalks in front of the Masonic Temple and the Emmanuel Episcopal Church property.

At the meeting it was agreed that the city will conduct a traffic turning survey at Greene and Johnson streets to get an accurate picture of the volume and type of traffic. The survey party will check commercial vehicles as well as passenger cars to determine the number traveling straight through on Greene Street, those turning onto Johnson Street to cross over the present Blue Bridge, and the direction of turns of all of the vehicles moving from Johnson onto Greene Street.

Hill promised that the Bureau of Public Roads would be able to check the survey data which will be compiled on a weekday between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., and recommend the type of traffic light that would best serve the bridge approach.

Nuzum said it is hoped that bids for constructing the approach to the new bridge can be let about March 15. This will be done as soon as the State Roads Commission approves the plans for the project. The city engineer said that he has not yet received a report from the West Virginia Road Commission on its progress in planning the Ridgeley approach to the bridge.

The bridge superstructure was installed by the American Bridge Company, which completed its work just before Christmas. The Wright Contracting Company, Inc., Columbus, Ga., was awarded the contract to lay the concrete on the bridge. Nuzum has been informed that this work should get under way about February 1. The contractor has 120 working days to complete the job.

Club To Meet

The monthly meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Guy Thompson, Baltimore Pike, at 8 o'clock Friday. There will be installation of officers and Blue Cross dues will be collected.

McKaig Files Amended Suit Against City On Expressway

Attorneys for W. Wallace McKaig, local industrialist, yesterday filed an amended suit against the Mayor and Council of Cumberland, asking Allegany County Circuit Court to issue an injunction against the Mayor and Council voiding the city's contract with the State Roads Commission on a crosstown expressway.

Basically, the amended declaration contained the same issues contained in the original declaration filed August 9.

The two main points, according to the suit filed by W. Earl Cobey and Charles Z. Heskett, are that the Mayor and Council went beyond powers alloted by the city charter in signing the contract with the State Roads Commission, and that assuming the council had that power, the agreement was not a reasonable exercise of those authorities.

Eliminated was the phrasing that the Mayor and Council had acted in a "capricious and arbitrary" manner in effecting the contract for the city's participation in the construction of the $12,000,000 crosstown expressway.

The declaration was also amended to make all references to costs of construction as referred to in the original listed "unknown" as much as possible, and not listed in specific amounts as was the case in the original.

The answer to the original request for a restraining order was filed by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and his associate counsel, William A. Gunter, on August 30.

Several pre-trial conferences since that time resulted in the filing of the amended suit.

When the case will get to trial was not announced.

Assembly Urged To Push Home Rule Measures

Would Implement Recent Amendment

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12 (AP) — The attorney general's office advised the General Assembly today to implement speedily municipal home rule so that local legislation may be passed without legal question.

Harrison L. Winter, deputy attorney general, opined that local legislation has been in a state of suspension since the voters amended the Constitution with home rule last November.

Inquiries by the cities of Cumberland and Crisfield about whether the General Assembly could authorize them to borrow money brought on the opinion.

Cumberland wants to borrow $500,000 to build a water line to a new industry and Crisfield also wants to issue bonds for some capital improvements.

"We think that the power of the General Assembly to enact legislation of the type desired by Cumberland and Crisfield was effectively removed by adoption" of the constitutional amendment, Winter stated.

"In view of these conclusions it would seem incumbent on the General Assembly to implement" the constitutional amendment "for local borrowing. . . as well as local legislation in general.

"Because our views, if they correctly reflect the proper construction" of the amendment "are not confined solely to local bond acts.

"Only the General Assembly can bridge the hiatus which presently exists in the law."

The amendment prohibits the General Assembly from passing any local law except for all chartered municipalities in a class. It calls for establishment of four classes.

"It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide by law the method by which new municipal corporations shall be formed," states the amendment.

This hasn't been done because the General Assembly has been in session only one week. The Legislative Council has introduced bills "which if enacted will correct in large part the vacuum now existing," Winter noted.

He cautioned that these bills "do nothing to clarify municipal borrowing powers" and he suggested an amendment to correct the lack.

The bills also call for only two classes, Baltimore City and all other municipalities already chartered.

Airport Body Favors Renewal Of Contract

Mullenax Bid Gets Recommendation

The Municipal Airport Commission last night unanimously recommended that Warren R. Mullenax again be awarded the contract to operate the airport for a two-year period starting March 1 with an option to renew the contract for another two years, according to G. Wyatt Brennaman, commission secretary.

The commission's recommendation, adopted at a meeting attended by all seven members in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves, now goes to the Mayor and City Council for final action.

Mullenax, who is now winding up his fifth year as operator of the airport, submitted an offer calling upon him to pay the city $2,040 plus five per cent of the gross business above $15,000 and 10 per cent of the business over $25,000.

The 10 per cent provision is subject to renegotiation at the end of one year. If at that time it is found that most of the business above $25,000 is gasoline, the contract will be amended effective March 1, to make payment seven-and-one-half per cent for business over $25,000.

Two other bids were considered by the commission last night. Thomas G. Barton of Rawlings and Albert V. Thrush of Burlington, W. Va., submitted a proposal whereby they would pay the city $1,800 plus five per cent of the gross business above $10,000 and at the end of the second year 10 per cent for all above $25,000. The contract also would have been for two years with the option of a two-year renewal.

Walter D. Burd, 811 Mt. Royal Avenue, submitted the other offer. He would pay the city $2,160 plus five per cent of the gross business above $15,000 and would have the option of renewal for two years after a two-year contract.

Mullenax will continue to offer charter service, repair and maintenance service and will live at the airport.

Mrs. Hogan also announced the names of seven leaders who will direct the program in various schools. Mrs. Maxine Zherbaugh will be in charge at East Side School each Wednesday from 3:30 until 4:30 p. m. Mrs. Charles Eyler will be in charge both at Centre Street and at Gephart, where the program will be operated on Mondays.

Bean Renamed President Of W. Va. Senate

Flannery Gets 4th Term As Speaker

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 12 (AP)—The West Virginia Legislature organized today under the same leadership it had at the last session two years ago, then adjourned until next Monday.

Re-elected were Sen. Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) for a second term as Senate president and Del. W. E. Flannery (D-Logan) for a fourth term, unprecedented in West Virginia history, as speaker of the House.

Their election at the opening session of the 60-day, 52d Legislature was merely a formality that gave official status to choices made in secret caucuses of the Democratic majorities the night before.

Introduced in both houses and promptly referred to the Finance committees were identical budget bills submitted by the Board of Public Works. The bills propose general revenue fund spending during the next fiscal year which totals $91,634,000, or $6,733,000 more than the board estimates the fund will take in from present sources.

Flannery, in an address after his election as speaker, said the deficit budget confronts the lawmakers with this choice: "Either we must find additional revenues or we must cut the items of the budget accordingly. The budget must be balanced."

The defeated candidates of the Republican minority for Senate president and house speaker-Sen. Dayton R. Stemple (R-Barbour and Del. Cecil Underwood (R-Tyler) -become the minority leaders of the two chambers. It will be Stemple's third session in that post and Underwood's fourth.

Re-election of Bean and Flannery means the majority leaderships will go to the same men who held the posts in 1953-Sen. John J. Amos (D-Kanawha) and Del. Martin C. Bowles (D-Kanawha).

During World War I, for over 18 months he was a mechanic in the Air Corps.

His activities include working in his hobby and woodworking shop, gardening and membership in the American Legion.

W. D. Claus, plant engineer, joined in honoring Powell by awarding him the traditional gold five-star Celanese service emblem and certificate.

Florida Family Hospitalized In Auto Accident

Woman Is Pinned Under Wreckage

Three members of a Florida family were admitted to Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital yesterday evening with injuries sustained when the car in which they were traveling skidded on an icy section of Route 40 west of Grantsville and upset.

In fair condition at the hospital are:

John C. Garrett Jr., 22, of St. Petersburg, Fla., driver of the car, who sustained laceration of the head, face and neck and possible knee fracture.

Mrs. Joycellon Garrett, 23, his wife, who suffered a possible fractured back.

Their 10-month-old daughter, Debra Linn Garrett, who sustained a severe laceration of the face.

Attaches last night said X-rays will be taken to learn the extent of their injuries. Mrs. Garrett, according to State Police, was pinned under the wreckage and her daughter was thrown to the highway by the impact.

The auto had to be jacked up before Mrs. Garrett could be extricated and placed in an ambulance from Grantsville. Cpl. Sam Conrad, who was patrolling in the vicinity of the accident, went to the scene. He said the family was traveling west on Route 40 about six miles west of Grantsville when the accident occurred.

Cpl. Conrad said that as the car hit the icy section, it skidded out of control across the highway, hit a guard rail and upset.

The mishap occurred about 4 p. m.

Valley Road Man Sues For $50,000

One Valley Road man sued another for $50,000 in a damage suit filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

James F. Shanholtz, RFD 3, Valley Road, through Attorneys Thomas B. Finan and William C. Walsh, filed the $50,000 action against Floyd Berkey, also of RFD 3, Valley Road.

The plaintiff explained in his declaration that he was a passenger in an automobile owned and driven by Berkey, which crashed about two miles north of Cumberland while traveling south on Valley Road. The accident occurred last July 25.

Shanholtz said that Berkey lost control of his car, which traveled off the right side of the road, careened to the opposite side, struck a ditch, careened back to the right side, where it smashed into a dwelling house.

The plaintiff charged that he sustained a broken vertebra in his neck, and cuts on his head and face. He has been permanently injured and handicapped in his work, Shanholtz concluded.

Bridge Approach Plans Discussed By Officials

Bids Are Likely Around March 15

City officials yesterday discussed with a representative of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads details concerning the development of the Cumberland approach to the new Potomac River bridge leading to Ridgeley.

Attending the session were Streets Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Harry L. Hill, a highway field engineer for the Bureau of Public Roads with headquarters in Baltimore.

The final plans call for the widening of Greene Street, from the curve at the remnants of Riverside Park to the point where it intersects Washington Street, to a minimum width of 32 feet so that it can readily carry three lanes of traffic. Several feet will have to be eliminated from the sidewalks in front of the Masonic Temple and the Emmanuel Episcopal Church property.

At the meeting it was agreed that the city will conduct a traffic turning survey at Greene and Johnson streets to get an accurate picture of the volume and type of traffic. The survey party will check commercial vehicles as well as passenger cars to determine the number traveling straight through on Greene Street, those turning onto Johnson Street to cross over the present Blue Bridge, and the direction of turns of all of the vehicles moving from Johnson onto Greene Street.

Hill promised that the Bureau of Public Roads would be able to check the survey data which will be compiled on a weekday between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., and recommend the type of traffic light that would best serve the bridge approach.

Nuzum said it is hoped that bids for constructing the approach to the new bridge can be let about March 15. This will be done as soon as the State Roads Commission approves the plans for the project. The city engineer said that he has not yet received a report from the West Virginia Road Commission on its progress in planning the Ridgeley approach to the bridge.

The bridge superstructure was installed by the American Bridge Company, which completed its work just before Christmas. The Wright Contracting Company, Inc., Columbus, Ga., was awarded the contract to lay the concrete on the bridge. Nuzum has been informed that this work should get under way about February 1. The contractor has 120 working days to complete the job.

Club To Meet

The monthly meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Guy Thompson, Baltimore Pike, at 8 o'clock Friday. There will be installation of officers and Blue Cross dues will be collected.

McKaig Files Amended Suit Against City On Expressway

Attorneys for W. Wallace McKaig, local industrialist, yesterday filed an amended suit against the Mayor and Council of Cumberland, asking Allegany County Circuit Court to issue an injunction against the Mayor and Council voiding the city's contract with the State Roads Commission on a crosstown expressway.

Basically, the amended declaration contained the same issues contained in the original declaration filed August 9.

The two main points, according to the suit filed by W. Earl Cobey and Charles Z. Heskett, are that the Mayor and Council went beyond powers alloted by the city charter in signing the contract with the State Roads Commission, and that assuming the council had that power, the agreement was not a reasonable exercise of those authorities.

Eliminated was the phrasing that the Mayor and Council had acted in a "capricious and arbitrary" manner in effecting the contract for the city's participation in the construction of the $12,000,000 crosstown expressway.

The declaration was also amended to make all references to costs of construction as referred to in the original listed "unknown" as much as possible, and not listed in specific amounts as was the case in the original.

The answer to the original request for a restraining order was filed by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and his associate counsel, William A. Gunter, on August 30.

Several pre-trial conferences since that time resulted in the filing of the amended suit.

When the case will get to trial was not announced.
